A Classic

Northside High School
926 Green Street
Warner Robins, Ga. 31093

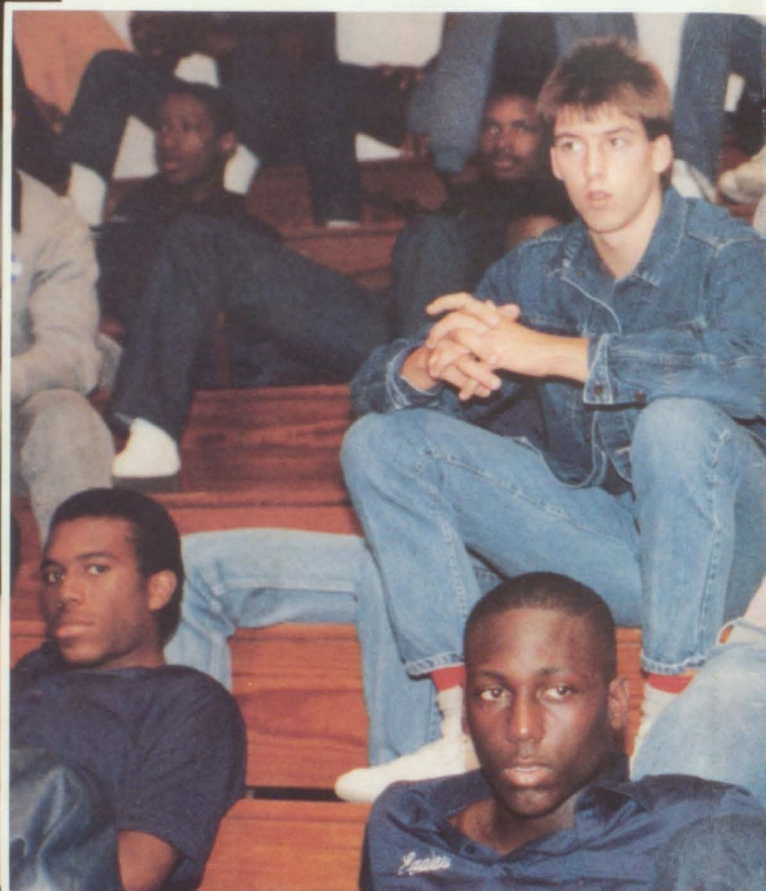

Aquila
XXV

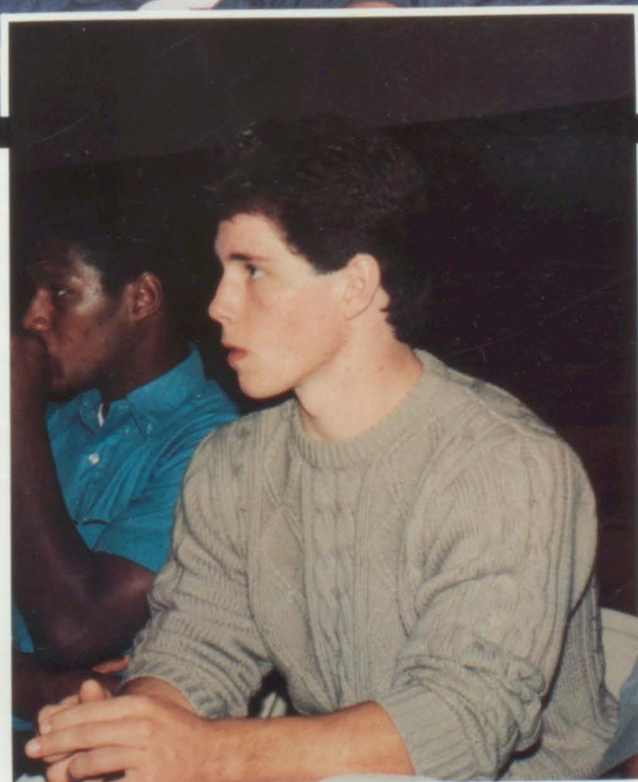

Tracy Beal must have a very special someone to send her balloons.

In the Beginning . . .

For many students the front porch is the best place for lunch with friends.

Sophomore, Heath Martin seems to feel very comfortable at the Homecoming Assembly.

These souvenirs are a blast from the past at Northside.

In the beginning there was Warner Robins High School, but as a famous man once said, "There's always room for improvement!"

In the early 1960's The Board of Education began making plans for a new high school in Warner Robins. The population had grown so much that classrooms were teeming with students. Thus the great tradition of EAGLE-COUNTRY was born. Back then there were many hopes for the 'new school on the block' which have now been fulfilled and doubled.

In 1988 Northside High School celebrated its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary! The festivities began with Homecoming where the theme was Silver Sensations, and carried on through Spirit Week, Miss Northside, and many other activities.

This yearbook is dedicated to anyone who ever felt the joy of Northside Pride. Whether they cheered their heart out at pep rallies, or spent hours trying to understand calculus homework, or simply shed tears at a defeat, this book is for these people. Anyone who ever walked through the front doors of NHS has felt that special feeling. Most people said that Northside was more than a school; Northside is a family!

Therefore the next question is: What makes Northside a family? The people! The people at Northside have a spark of magic in their soul. And when these people get together, those sparks ignite into a bonfire of Eagle Spirit. This bonfire has been burning for 25 years, with each additional year adding to the blaze.

Yes, each person at Northside contributes to the exhilaration of being an Eagle fan. From the students to the faculty to the staff members there is a pride that is found nowhere else but the True Blue halls of Northside.

Through the Years . . .

Through the years Northside has grown in many ways. In academics, sports, and the campus itself, many NHS supporters watched it grow. Recent changes in the academic program improved the kind of education Northside students received. With the addition of QBE, Quality Based Education, most students worked harder in 1988 than they ever had. QBE did not only mean more work for students, but also for teachers and administrators. Since the curriculum was greater than it ever had been, many teachers found themselves bogged down in reports, labs, and term papers. Although many complaints were heard about QBE, the program greatly benefitted the quality of education at Northside. Most people judge a school by its sports. Does it have a good football team? Well, lately Northside not only improved its football team, who went all the way to Region Play-offs, but also improved their Softball team who brought home the Region title. As well both sports defeated the enemy: Warner Robins High. The entire athletic department grew to include: track, baseball, golf, wrestling, and at a time gymnastics. Of course, what would a sporting event be without Northside's award-winning cheerleaders?

But what about the outward appearance of Northside? The Sophomores might think that there was always a "New Building," but the Seniors know better! The addition of the vocational wing offered extended opportunities to Northside students, and as most students would say — It's air conditioned! Also, the library has been expanded to give students more study area. This year 5 computers were placed in the library. One add-on at the school that is fought over most, is the enlarged parking lot in front of the school. No matter how early students arrive, there never seem to be enough parking spaces.

Yes, Northside has changed a lot in the past 25 years. Through dedication and perseverance, supporters of NHS have seen it become the only place they would have their children attend school.

Darren McConnell, Bill Barger, and Eddie Oliver seem to think break is a cause for celebration.

Being in the Chorus at NHS means dedication and concentration to Diane Lane.

Seniors, Mark Summers and Keith Moore, do a little creative hall-walking during class.

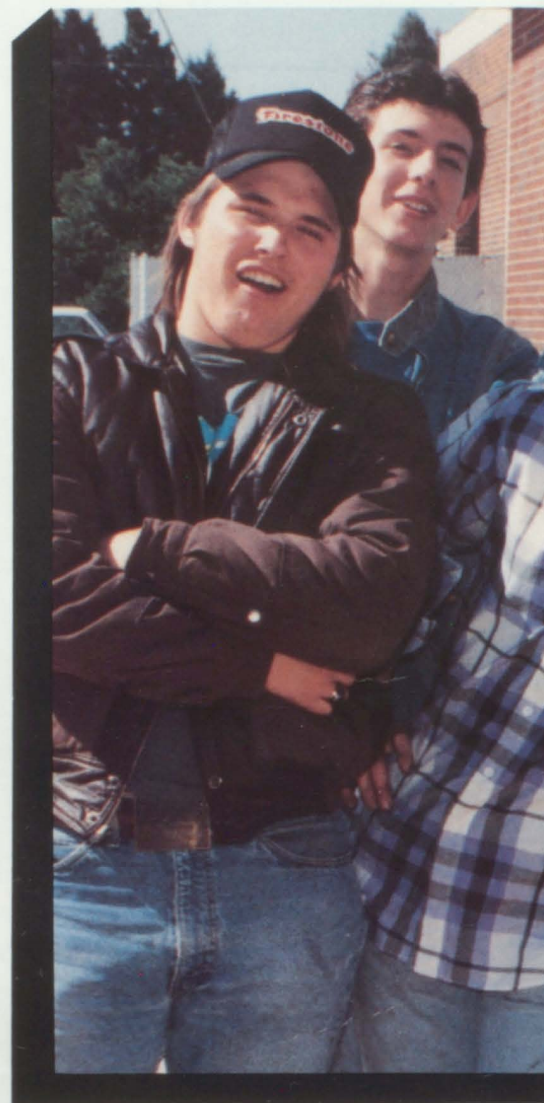

If there is one thing seniors know how to do, "party" at pep rallies is definitely it.

For some students at NHS, hanging out before school means a lot of laughs with good friends.

Sophomore football players give a big "high five" after a touchdown.

During an assembly, Robin Rathbun and Jenny Bradley argue as most friends do.

Shawn Lauer, Carey Rissman, and Robbie Collins develop a new concept in what a parade float should be.

These are just some of the Northside memorabilia that fans collect today.

But That was Then . . .

And This is Now

But that was then and this is now. No matter how Northside stood back in the 1960's, today it is a completely new world.

As for how it was in the beginning, very few students today wear bell-bottoms. Also, it would be impossible to fit the 1,350 students who now attend Northside in the building as it was then. Although these things have changed, the great Northside Pride was always a part of this school.

As for how Northside changed through the years, no one could ever change the way loyal fans feel about NHS. The bounds Northside has made in improving the quality of education offered here show the confidence the administrators have in the student body's ability. Also, Northside's athletic program has never been as advanced as it is in 1988.

Northside has achieved a remarkable status in the Warner Robins community. In athletics, academics, debate, drama and ROTC, NHS is the leading school. Even in defeat the supporters and students of Northside come through to show the utmost in sportsmanship.

By far, 1988 was the best year out of all 25, because the student body wanted it to be. Northside will have many more successful years as long as each student's blood runs 'true blue'.

Sterling Swagger

In the dawn of this Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Northside High School, students have made 'the Northside Eagle' as popular as the spirit yell. All students uniquely display their ever-lasting Northside Pride.

The heart of the school is represented by the dedicated faculty. Seniors usually set the groove since they have had three unforgettable years in sharing the school's spirit! Not far behind them are the juniors who are not at all reluctant to jump in and share their excitement. The sophomores are eager to follow the lead and put as much spirit into the rally as the others. Of course, the faculty is outstanding. Their dedication has led the school to be what it is today. All in all, everyone at Northside shows that their blood really runs "True Blue."

The numerous activities and events encourage everyone to take part in what will be the best days of their lives.

Whether it is Homecoming, Mr. and Miss Northside, or the football games that bring out the fever, the excitement continuously builds. Cheerleaders cheer; pep club paints signs; fans support the school's many different sports; and the various clubs put the final touches on the growing vigor. This type of never-ending energy keeps Northside on top.

Northside pride can also be seen through individuals not in these extra-curricular activities. They may strive for academic excellence or contribute services to the community. They are all part of Northside and add to its superior rank.

Regardless of the obstacle, the students at Northside have come through, year after year, for twenty-five years. They have risen above all others and set high standards. Congratulations for twenty-five years of excellence!

Just Another Day

Although there are days when Northside students awake knowing that the Homecoming Assembly is today, or that the big game will be later on that evening there is not always something to celebrate. There are many days, however, when students awake and there is no glitter on the horizon. Only days when they wake up to find unfinished homework looming in the air. Or maybe it's a terrifying A.P. Calculus test to look forward to.

At any rate, Northside, great as it is, is not entirely made of golden brick, there are ordinary days. Ordinary days when students come to school and go home again without any excitement.

To some students a day without French fries in the cafeteria is like a day without sunshine. No, not every day can be great and exciting. However, when these ordinary, run-of-the-mill days do creep into Northside students lives, they are generally grateful for the rest.

To have a day where one can simply wear jeans and a sweat shirt seems like heaven to some. However, to some busy students not having any work to do leaves them bored! This is only a small handful of students, however.

Well, maybe the day did not bring the announcement of the new Miss Northside, or the ROTC Queen. And maybe every day wasn't Christmas, but every day at Northside was special because the people at Northside made it that way. It does not take fancy clothes or titles to prove that everything NHS does is, and always will be a CLASSIC.

Classic Fashion

What is fashion? Is fashion what everybody has, or is it what everybody wants? Well, in any case Northside has many different varieties of what is considered the "in" clothing for the year. One of the hottest styles this year is black and white Reeboks and Nikes. You can also see a number of other colors of hightops, such as, orange, blue, green, and red.

The students at Northside are also showing their favorite characters on their shirts. Many students own more than one Spuds MacKenzie, Coke or Pepsi shirt, and even more have a Buckwheat shirt with his famous "O Tay" saying.

The fashionable students at Northside are also showing off the latest style in jeans. The frosted look on jeans can also be seen on jackets, shirts and shoes. Many other fashions from last year are still "in". These are plaid shorts, overalls and any Gotcha clothing, so do not throw them away.

The fashion varies from group to group, which adds to the individuality of Northside High School, but no matter how different people look, they are still part of Northside. All Northside students past and present have the look.

Clicks In Time

Year after year, month after month, week after week, and day after day people come and go into the lives of high school students. Some of these people are extremely special or close, while others are just a friend to say "Hello" to in the hall. Some stay in lives for years, while others for only days. No matter what the circumstances, everyone has extraordinary relationships.

There are many different kinds of relationships. There are those relationships between boy and girl, which may develop into something glorious like marriage. They may also end up in a quarrel, which may destroy the alliance altogether. Usually, a friendship simply results between the two. Another type of relationship is that between best friends. Girl to girl, boy to boy, they tell all their deep, precious secrets. There are the gang affiliations, too. Many young people of both sexes share everything. This is fun for the whole group. There is always someone to share your thoughts and feelings with.

Connections are broken, though. When graduation rolls around, every person must go their separate way. They must let go of those connections which have helped them to grow in ways unexplainable. As students move on in life, they make more friends, lose them, and make more. But, these "Clicks in time" will always be in the heart, especially those unique high school cronies.

Sweetest Sensations

At Northside the tradition of electing a Homecoming Queen has continued throughout the past 25 years. Students look forward to the elections of the Queen and her Court. Each year, girls from the sophomore, junior, and senior class are nominated for the court by the student body. After that list has been compiled, there are approximately twenty to twenty-five girls. In order to eliminate a majority of the nominees, students vote again by secret ballot. The top five girls out of each class then become the representatives for their class.

On October 19, during a special assembly, the girls presented their speeches. Two sophomores, two juniors, and three seniors were selected. These girls made up the Homecoming Court. The attention was then drawn to the three senior representatives. One of these lucky girls would take over the title of Homecoming Queen for 1987.

The last Homecoming assembly was held on October 30. Hearts were filled with suspense as the drums rolled and the student body waited for the announcing of the new Homecoming Queen.

To Northside, the Homecoming Queen represents integrity, love, respect, and most of all NORTHSIDE PRIDE among students and faculty. This years Queen was no exception.

This years court included sophomores, Latrisa Billings, and Nicole Spires; juniors, Marie Kemp and Tangie Rambert; and seniors, Sherolyn Ford, Rochelle Greer, and Kendall Williford.

As the '87 Homecoming festivities came to a close, Medgar Roberts, master of ceremonies, exclaimed, "The winner is Kendall Williford!" Pandemonium broke loose as the students watched Kendall come to the realization that she was Homecoming Queen.

A Classic Setting

Congratulating Kendall Williford is Sherolyn Ford and Danny Alexander.

The arrival of October means many things. First of all there is the coming of fall and the football season. However, one of the most memorable events is Homecoming at Northside. This year is a special Homecoming, because it celebrates the 25th annual Homecoming assembly. The senior class president, Medgar Roberts, served as the master of ceremonies at the assembly. Medgar introduced senior football players, cheerleaders, majorettes, flag corps, band members and their escorts in the gym on the morning of October 29. As Medgar introduced the 1987-88 Homecoming Court, Dottie Hunt played the piano. Then as the gym filled with anticipation and excitement, a deadly silence came over the student body. Medgar tore open the envelope and introduced the 1987 Homecoming Queen, Kendall Williford. The whole student body flooded the floor to congratulate the Queen.

Silver Sensations

This year's theme for Northside's 25th Homecoming parade was "Silver Sensations". The parade was just that, sensational. The weather was absolutely gorgeous for celebrating the Homecoming tradition at Northside. The sun shown down brightly on the well-decorated floats and cars in the parade.

The parade started at Williams Plaza on Watson Boulevard at 4:30 p.m. and ended at the public library also on Watson Boulevard. Many people with smiling faces gathered on the edge of the street to view the exciting floats.

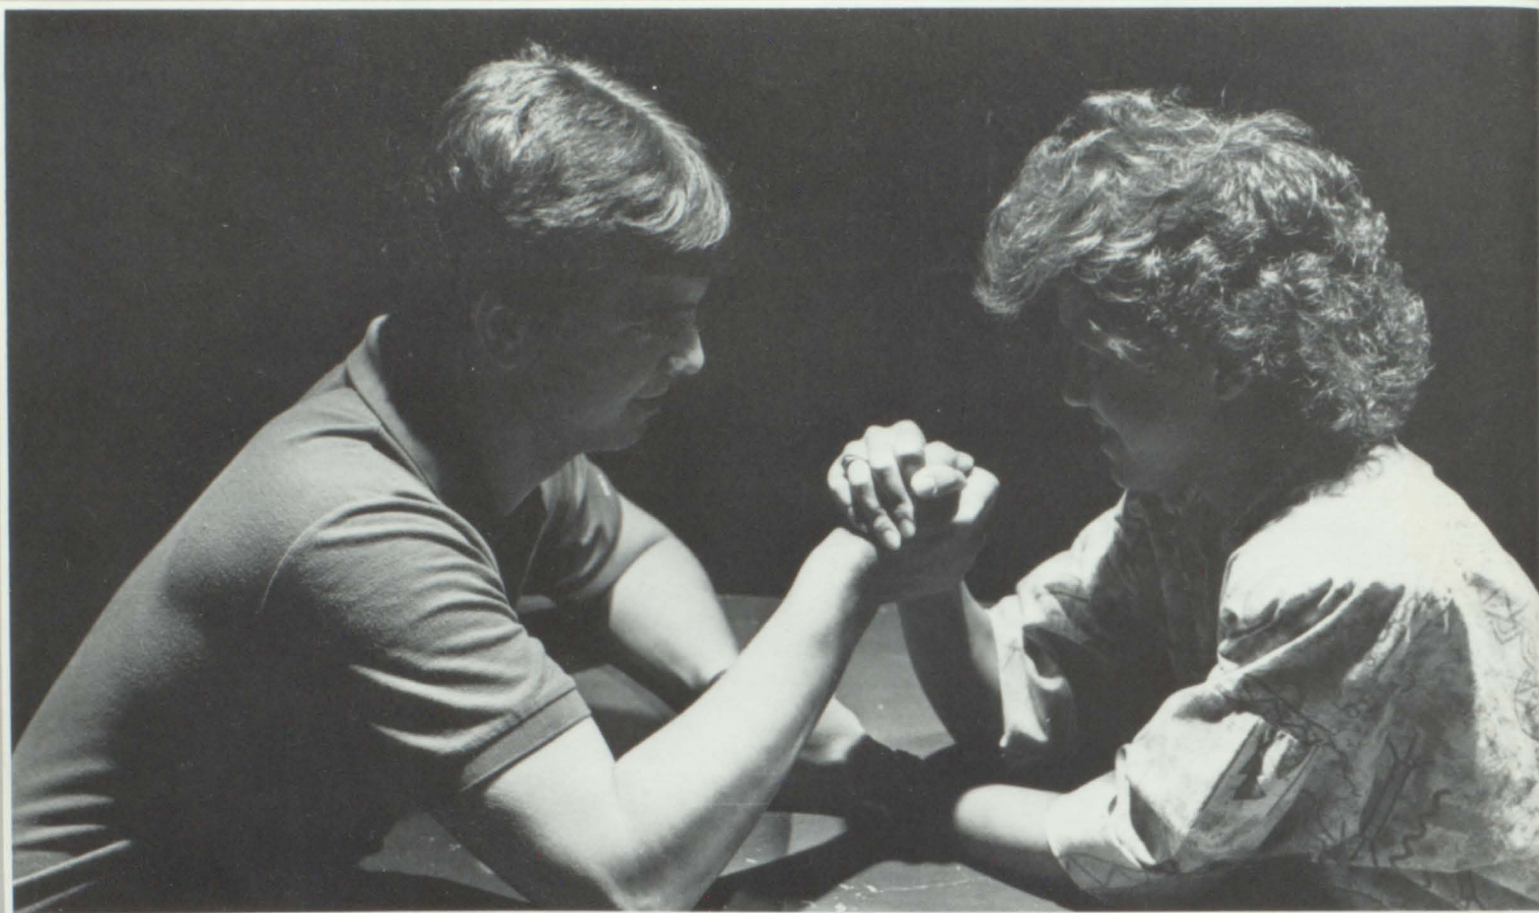

While waiting to start the parade at Williams Plaza, judging took place. This year the Senior Class float won First Place. Their float had a "Happy 25th Anniversary" cake on it. Also in the category, the Junior Class won Second Place with a chocolate Kiss on their float, and the VICA Club won Third Place. Cars were also judged. SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) won First Place. This car was the result of a driving drunk accident; it was very smashed up. Second Place went to the Computer Club, which rode in a fabulously decorated blue truck, and Third Place went to FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes). However, all floats and cars were outstanding. Overall, this year's Homecoming Parade was a grand success.

Classy Night Out

It's Friday and the 3:15 bell just rang at Northside High School. Being a Friday, the parking lots are cleared by no later than 3:30. As the week comes to a close, students feel relieved that one more week is over with. For a short time, they will be able to relax, have fun, and be themselves with friends. Yes! It's finally the weekend. Time to let loose and enjoy themselves.

Now let's take a closer look at just what these teenagers enjoy. Friday night is a long awaited night for many students here at Northside High. The weekends are filled with various activities for different individuals. Many teens spend their evenings at the local theatre catching the latest flicks. Later to enjoy the gathering of friends at Mazzio's and the TG&Y parking lot. Some students enjoy bowling at the local bowling allies. The teens may not be professional bowlers, but just being with friends makes up for those gutter balls. Often times you are able to catch some teens trying their luck at Putt-Putt. It's a sight to see someone make their first hole-in-one. Those teens who enjoy loud music and getting into the groove can be seen at the local teen club, Nie's. The newly opened club provides music, entertainment, and socializing for many teens. You might even catch a few students wandering around at the Houston Mall. Then you have those who just prefer a quiet night at home in front of the television to relax from a long week of school.

We can't forget the football games. During the football season, many students are at the stadium cheering on their favorite team, NORTHSIDE EAGLES!! Afterwards, many students enjoy congregating at one of the local pizza parlors to celebrate a victory. Then we have those couples who just want to stay at home and spend time together while watching movies on the VCR. Whether it's partying, socializing, sleeping, dancing, or bowling, Friday nights are well enjoyed by all the students here at Northside High.

Tangela Robinson, a junior, shows her school spirit by decorating the halls.

We Got The What?

SPIRIT week at Northside is not only traditional but also exciting. During this week, the students demonstrate their spirit and Northside pride by participating in various dress codes established by the varsity cheerleaders.

Beginning with Tuesday, November 10, and each day following, there was a different dress code style. Tuesday was "Wipe Out" the Demons day and students dressed in Hawaiian style clothing and wore sunglasses and hats to compliment the theme. Wednesday, the students "Hunted Down" the Demons by wearing camouflage attire. On Thursday, the Eagles "Mourned" the Demons by wearing black clothing. Friday, as always, was reserved as the traditional "Blue and White" day. Students participated by wearing their favorite jerseys.

Among other activities which demonstrate the pride of Northside and support of the football players, is the hall decorating competition. In this competition, all three classes decorate a designated hall which is then judged. This year's first place went to the Senior class. The Juniors won 2nd place and the Sophomores won 3rd place. Also, there were pep rallies and a funeral service held for a Demon by the Pep club.

Spirit week occurs one week prior to the biggest game of the season which is against our cross-town rival Warner Robins High. This year due to the loyal fans and strategic tactics of the football players, the Northside Eagles once again painted the town BLUE!

One Classy Act

Northside had one classy act this year with the One Act play Runaways. Mr. Horne, who has been the director of the One-Act since they first started, had tryouts in the middle of September. The tryouts were two days long with several students going out. Some people who did not make the cast were chosen to be set crew. The tryouts were a three part test composed of dancing, singing, and a dramatic reading from the play. Once the cast was chosen, Mr. Unruh, the Ensemble Director, put the cast to work learning the music to all of the numbers. Practice was long and tiresome, but the cast and crew were dedicated and worked long into the night. The arrival of Ken Raphael on October 10th meant even longer practices, but also meant the cast was beginning to make the show complete.

The show would not be complete without costumes. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. McMeans are responsible for the making of the cast looking fresh off the streets. Mrs. Campbell was also assisted by Tom Niswender, a dedicated student.

Mr. Flores, who was a great help to the cast, kept the cast on their toes by making them remember dance steps and special cues.

The stage crew, who are very loyal students, helped to get the stage on and off and made sure properties were in the right place. Amy Allen was the stage manager and had everything running smoothly. Shane Killian was the set manager and was assisted by John Stillwell, Mike Dyer, and Joey Dennis. The sound was handled by Neal Wyatt, who was always right on cue.

"Heartache on Stage"

One of America's largest heartaches was brought to life by this year's one act cast and crew. The production of "Runaways," written by Elizabeth Swado, was an astounding success. The play won first runner up, best directed play, best ensemble, and best musical at the Georgia Theater Conference which was held at the Macon Hilton. The one act play was also victorious at Region competition by taking first place. At Region, two perfect scores were received, and the awards of best actress and actor went to Tangie Rambert and Rob Gordon. The One-Act has been in twenty-five region competitions and won twenty-three, yet this was the first time that Northside was awarded two perfect scores. After Northside claimed such a well-deserved victory at the region, they went on to state competition. At state the play won first runner up. "Runaways" was also performed at several local facilities. The hard work and faithful dedication by the thirty-one students connected with "Runaways" is highly noted and greatly appreciated. They gave a memorable performance that touched the hearts of all who viewed the performance. The following people put their "heart and soul" into "Runaways": Ashleigh Andrews, Darquita McColumn, Joy Marsh, Suzy Campbell, Medgar Roberts, Kenitra Burnette, Rusty Dooly, Rusty Mines, Matt Schultz, Rob Gordon, Regina Moore, Jill Moore, Wayne Brewer, Jennifer Miller, Sherolyn Ford, Steve Chastain, Michelle Smith, Kendall Williford, Phil Little, Corey Dinkins, Tijawanda Thomas, ELias Oxendine, Jody Mullendore, Debbie Gee, Tonya Robinson, Richelle Roby, Tom Niswender (costumes), Neal Wyatt (sound), Mark Dyer (set), John Stillwell (set), Shane Killam (set), and Joey Dennis (set).

As he waits patiently, Loren Ryburn thinks about tomorrow.

For seventeen Seniors, the excitement and the sadness of graduation came early this year. Instead of continuing school through the second semester, these students, who had earned their required credits, chose to graduate at the end of the first semester.

The 1987-88 winter Graduation ceremonies were held in the cafeteria on Monday, January 25 at 8:00 p.m. The exercises began with the Invocation given by Anita Porter and continued with a Welcoming by Teresa Hamilton.

Mr. Dyson, Mr. Mattox, and Mrs. Moore were present to extend their congratulations and to present the diplomas to the deserving students. After the presentation of the diplomas, the Northside Ensemble sang the traditional song "May the Lord Bless and Keep You."

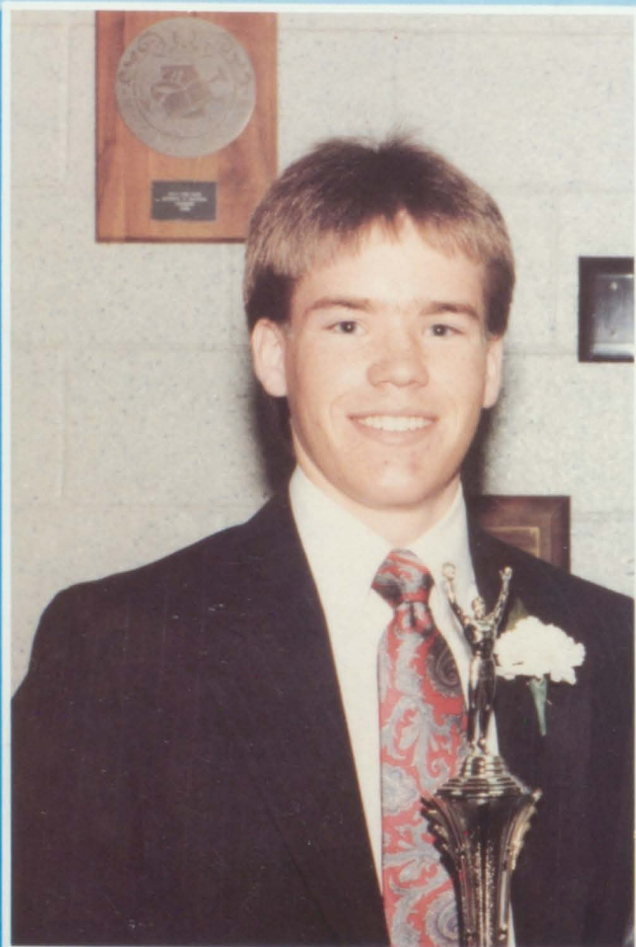

The ceremony ended with a Farewell from Gina Gutierrez, an emotional last singing of the Alma Mater, and the Benediction by Mark Allen Deeb.

Northside's Best

For one special male at Northside, Valentines Day has a dual meaning this year. On February 11, Dexter Copeland was named Mr. Northside for the 1987-88 school year.

The Mr. Northside contest began when the senior homerooms nominated the boys they felt best represented the school and the student body. From these nominees, ten were selected to compete as finalists. Each of these finalists submitted an application, made a speech before the entire student body, and were interviewed by five judges. The faculty and students voted and finally each of the ten finalists answered an impromptu question before the student body.

The percentage values for each part of the contest were as follows: application 40%, student vote 15%, faculty vote 15%, interview 15%, and impromptu question 15%. Individual awards were given to those senior boys who met the qualifications. Jeff McGahee — Student vote; Cliff Simpson and Dexter Copeland — best application; Dexter Copeland — interview; 1st runner-up — Antuan Bibbs; 2nd runner-up — Cliff Simpson; 3rd runner-up — Steve Chastain; and 4th runner-up — Mark Ivory.

Originals? These Guys?

Principal Mr. Dyson gives encouragement and words of wisdom to Mr. Northside contestants.

Mike Giles thinks you've got to hold your mouth right to win. Does flossing really impress the judges?

Sherolyn Ford sings of 'changing' in the talent portion. For this she wins 3rd place talent and 1st runner-up.

Closing her eyes and saying 'Thanks', Ashleigh Andrews cannot believe she has won 3rd runner-up.

Melanie Stephen, who played the piano for talent, shows a big smile upon learning of her winning 4th runner-up.

Jill Moore, the new Miss Northside, waves to the audience as it dawns upon her of her victory.

In her informal costume, Jill advocates peace and women's rights.

MISS NORTHSIDE TOPS

Twenty-five years ago, when Northside was in its first year, the Miss Northside Pageant was begun. In these years a lot of talent has been presented and 25 young ladies have won the title of Miss Northside.

For the year's pageant, the Warner Robins Civic Center was the setting and 'Ring them Belles' was the theme. Last year's Miss Northside, Toni Hinson, got the pageant off to a ringing start, by singing the theme song.

The masters of ceremony this year were Mr. Frank Stewart, a Northside graduate, and Mr. Ray Horne, the pageant's founder. The eight judges had in the past been connected to Northside in some way, either as former students, teachers, or community supporters.

On Thursday night the 30 contestants presented their selections, which were varied and showed a great deal of talent. This year's topic for informal was 'Famous Women in History'. Each girl depicted her choice through costume and dialogue. As in the past, everyone who attended the pageant was well entertained. When the judging was done the list of winners was long. Michelle Smith placed 1st in Talent and received the Academic Award. Julie Clift placed 2nd in Talent. Sherolyn Ford placed 3rd in Talent and as 1st runner-up; Rose Ellis won Formal and as 2nd runner-up; Ashleigh Andrews as 3rd runner-up; Melanie Stephen as 4th runner-up.

Miss Northside of 1987-88 is Miss Jill Moore, a junior whose charisma and charm really shown through. Jill received the award for application, interview, informal, and was voted on by her fellow contestants to receive Miss Congeniality.

Congratulations, Jill and Good Luck.

Thank you, Mr. Horne, for giving us the pageant.

Richelle Roby waits patiently back stage until it is time for the ensemble to perform.

Joy Marsh and Lashena Verrett discuss coordinating colors of make-up backstage.

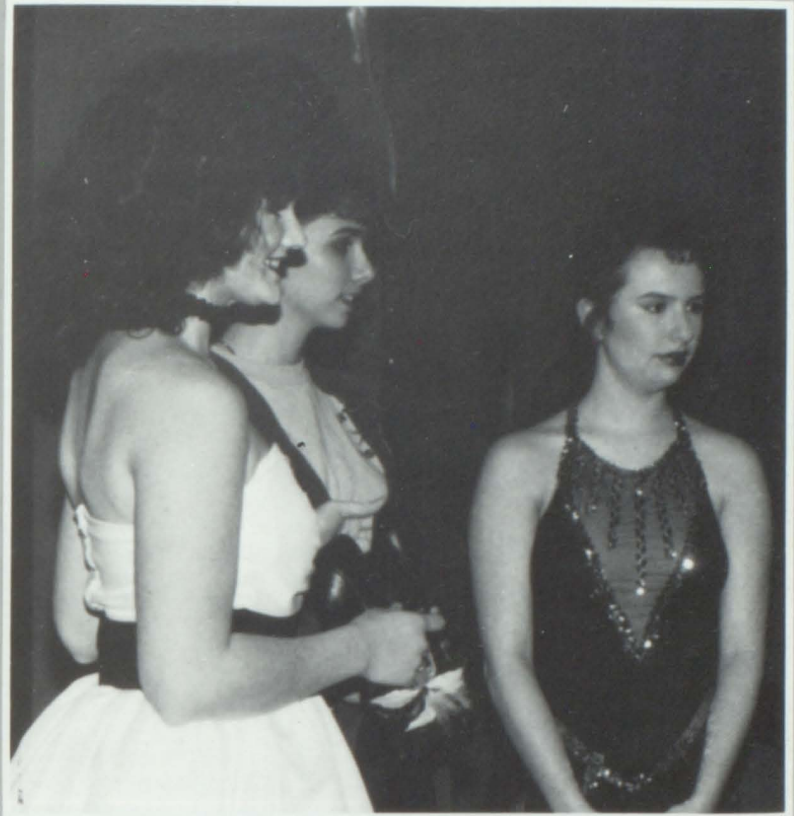

Alana Burden, a recent graduate, helps Kelli Hilliard add the final touch to her hair before she goes on stage.

Tammy Smith and Diane Talley listen for a stage call that will tell them it is time for the show to begin.

Before performing Ashleigh Andrews, Millie Littlefield, and Jennifer Miller relax and wish each other good luck.

Gail Bird, Julie Weatherford, and Tracy Rodgers take time to talk to each other about their performances.

Light Moments

Mrs. Sims puts the final touches to Sharon Calhoun's make-up before the contest.

Playing the piano for the enjoyment of others is done so well by Amy Allen.

Singing or playing the trumpet, Michelle Smith puts her all into her performance.

Michelle Smith, Sherolyn Ford, and Julie Clift, the talent winners, are proud of their accomplishments.

Susan Benton ponders the use of a gun to get a man.

Showing how it is done in ballet is Carmen Cranford.

Tracy Rogers demonstrates that Karate is as beautiful as it is protective.

CLASSICAL TALENT

Tracey Self enjoys clogging and it shows.

The tradition of the Miss Northside Pageant is that the talent is always presented on the first night. This year was no exception. Neither was the variety and the caliber of talent.

The thirty talented girls sang, danced, played the piano, the trumpet, and one even presented a Karate exhibition. There was comedy as well as serious moments. Debbie Gee presented a dramatic reading called "I'm Only Seventeen," which really touched the audience. Lighter moments occurred when Michelle Smith 'stormed the weather'; Jill Moore 'washed that man right out of her hair'; Susan Benton tried to 'get him with a gun'; Sherolyn Ford 'changed', and Tracey Self clogged to "White Lightning".

There were acts for all ages and taste. A former Mr. Northside, 1970, Frank Stewart, was MC with Mr. Horne. As he so aptly remarked, "Without the Miss Northside Pageant, we would not be aware of all the talent that is at Northside High School."

One of the last announcements of the pageant is to present the talent awards. This year Sherolyn Ford received 3rd place with a song; Julie Clift received 2nd with a modern dance; and Michelle Smith played the trumpet and sang her way into 1st place. Congratulations to the talent winners and to all those girls who participated in this year's pageant.

Kim Ezell with her escort Antuan Bibbs is not only proud of her recognition as ROTC Queen, but also of Northside High.

Walking down the aisle is sophomore princess Leanne Meadows and her escort Franklin McGrath.

After the ceremony, Keshea Madison shares a special moment with her mother.

Lt. Col. Mahaffey congratulates Master of Ceremonies Elias Oxendine on a job well done.

Taking time to have their pictures taken are Kim and Antuan with Tangela Robinson and Vince Black.

After the ceremony, Brian Lifsey takes a few minutes to talk to the new queen.

A Tradition

On January 29, 1988, the students and faculty gathered in the gymnasium to watch the crowning of the 1988 ROTC Queen. The Reserve Generation Band of the Air Force Reserve, in its 14th year of appearing as special guest, played several popular songs, including "Cherry Bomb", "One in a Million", "When a Man Loves a Woman", and "I Feel Good."

Five girls were chosen to represent each of the ten categories. From these girls, the ten with the highest scores, went on to compete for princess or queen. Girls in ROTC are automatically entered. Those who are not but wish to enter may sign up. The categories are: Flights A through E, Color Guard, Rocketry, Eaglette Drill Team, Eagle Drill Team, Rescue Color Guard, and the Saber Team.

The Public Affairs Staff of the ROTC is responsible for the election of the queen and the court. The sophomore sweethearts were Leanne Meadows and Lynn Brown. The junior sweethearts were Kathy Addison, Janet Olive, Keshia Madison, Le Shon Dwight, Julie Nolan, and Tangela Robinson. Kim Ezell and Cricket Slonaker were the senior sweethearts.

C/Commander Elias Oxendine, as Master of Ceremonies finally announced the winners as the excitement and tension built in the air. The crowd showed their approval as Kim Ezell was announced as the 1988 ROTC Queen, and she was crowned by last year's queen, Carol Fidler. Kim has been very active in ROTC since entering Northside. In the past, she has been the sophomore and junior princess. The Junior princess was Tangela Robinson and the Sophomore princess was Leanne Meadows.

'I had a lot of fun even though it was nerve-wracking.'

Tangela Robinson

Sims Kendall and his date enjoy a quiet moment together.

Shelton Billings, Elias Oxendine, and his date have a refreshing drink after dancing.

Jeff Sans and Michelle Newton cherish a special moment as they sway to the music.

Taking a break from dancing is the last thing on the minds' of Tracy Daniels, Linda Graham, Girl Bird, and Brian Lifsey.

Having a congenial conversation between dances are Rusty Mines, Sharon Calhoun, Ashleigh Andrews, and Steve Chastain.

Seniors' Night Out

February 27 turned out to be a perfect 73 degree day in Warner Robins, but many did not get to take advantage of the sunshine and warm air.

About 25 seniors, along with a few faculty members, arrived at school at 9:00 am Saturday to begin decorating for the Senior Ball. A handful of workers spent the day coiling ivy setting up tables, arranging flowers, and hanging Japanese lanterns and Oriental landscape scenes which were borrowed from a local church.

Throughout the day, seniors could be seen around town at local stores making adjustments on dresses and suits and picking up last minute items such as film, flowers, and money for the night ahead. The many hours of hard work finally paid off. By 6 pm, the otherwise ordinary lobbies had been transformed, as if by magic, into an exotic Japanese Ballroom.

As the sunset faded into the night, the temperature dropped only slightly. Anticipation and excitement grew, and helped to create an ideal atmosphere for a special night.

Although the ball did not start until 8 pm, many couples arrived earlier to have pictures taken before traveling to area restaurants for a formal dinner. Some of the more popular places included the Green Jacket, Denvers, and Steak and Ale. After dinner, it was back to Northside where Bob's Mobile Sound provided music and lighting effects for dancing.

When the midnight hour arrived, everyone had enjoyed themselves and had stayed until the very end.

The Student of the Year for 1988 was Tammy Piceno, class valedictorian. She was honored at a banquet on June 1 at Richard's Restaurant.

Dottie Hunt prepares for literary competition by performing at various school functions.

Will Vinson diligently works to increase his speed and accuracy.

Because of her hard work, Susan Fuller, brings home a first place award in Girl's Essay at Literary Competition.

Jerry McGahagin, Jeff Jones, Rusty Dooley, and Medgar Roberts, the Boy's Quartet, are popular entertainers at NHS.

Sandy Kubia practices daily to be the best at NHS.

Representing Northside in shorthand, Robin Shaw uses her talents to win region and second in state competition.

Not surprisingly, Mike Hester places first in extemporaneous speaking and fourth in spelling at Literary Competition.

Winning Talents

Along with the many other traditions at Northside, one must remember Literary Competition as we celebrate our 25th Anniversary. In the past years Northside has won 23 out of the last 25 years. With this record, Northside is a winning tradition of its own.

The areas of competition range from typing to girl's trio. As usual, many excellent students represented Northside High School at various Literary competitions all over the state. These competitions were held at different locations depending on the area of competition.

There were several competitors in the area of music. The Girl's trio consisted of Ashleigh Andrews, Sandra Nichols and Richelle Roby. Rusty Dooley, Jeff Jones, Jerry McGahagin, and Medgar Roberts were the members of this year's quartet. Medgar Roberts also represented Northside in Boy's Solo. Girl Soloist participant was Richelle Roby. Dottie Hunt won an award in Girl's Piano.

In the area of Business, those who participated were Sandy Kubia and Will Winson in Typewriting. Robin Shaw was selected to compete in Shorthand.

In the areas of communication, those selected to participate were Susan Fuller and Ricky McClellan competed in Girl's and Boy's Essay; Mike Hester and Penny Stanescu in Extemporaneous Speaking; Debbie Gee and Medgar Roberts on Oral Interpretation, Lisa Carlson and Mike Hester in Spelling. Carre Rone represented Northside in home economics.

The 1987-88 Academic Bowl team was made up of Mike Hester, Susan Fuller, and Ronald Brigmond.

Members of Girls State are Ashleigh Andrews, Jalanda Standard, and Lisa Parnell.

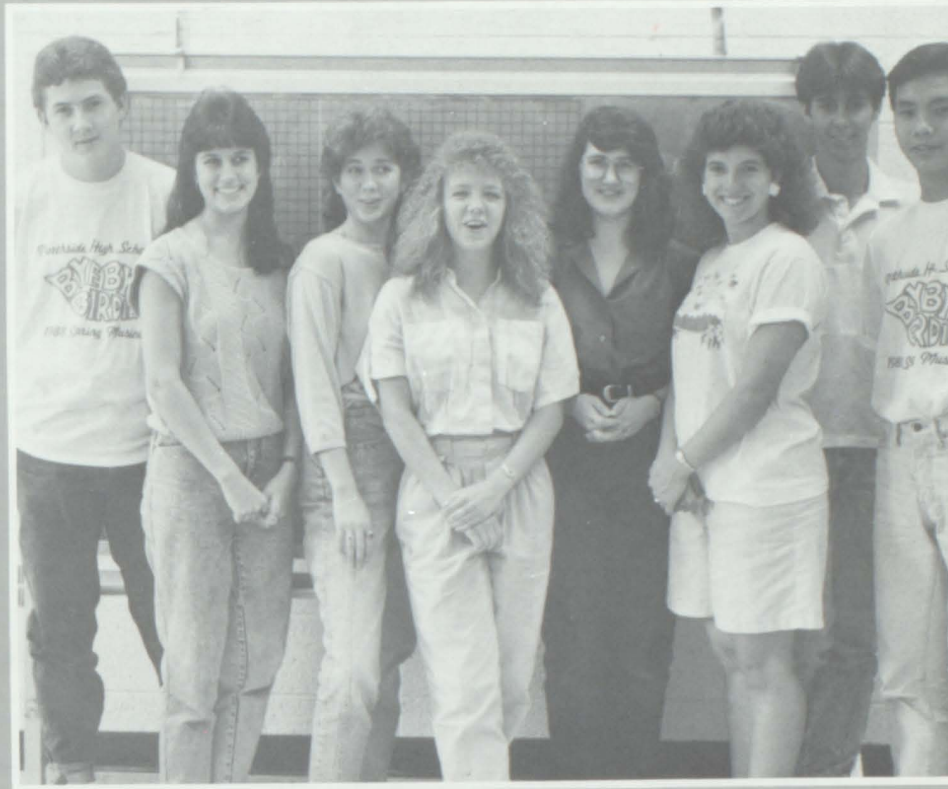

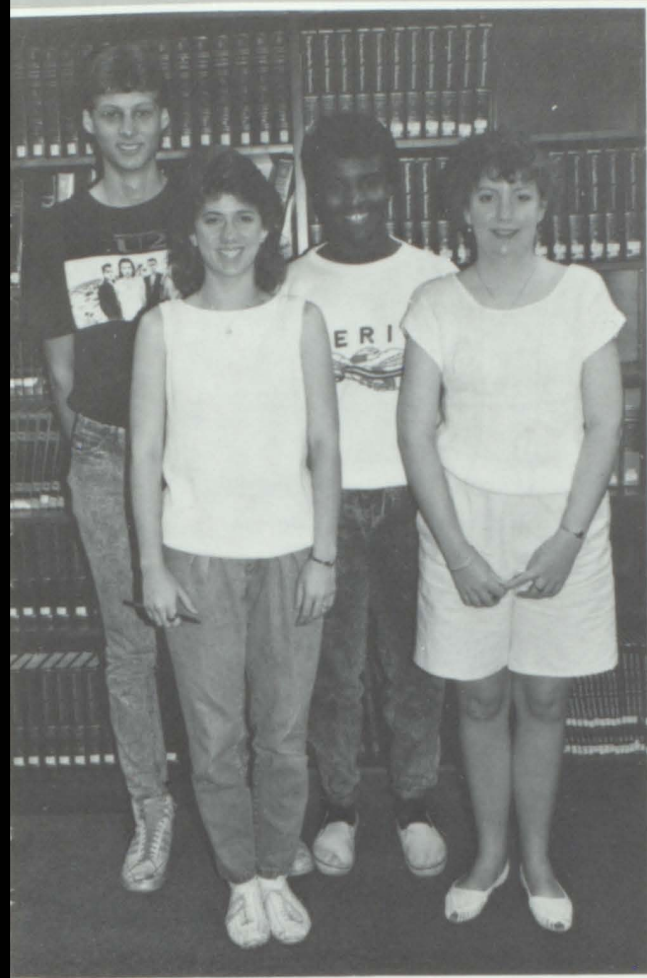

Winner of a special band award is Bobby Murr who is unaffected by the honor.

Georgia Scholars for the 1988 year are Michael Carter, Tammy Piceno, Medgar Roberts, and Susan Fuller.

Scott Culpepper, Samantha Bozeman, Tammy Piceno, Debi Waterman, Amy Elmore, Carleen Dammann, Jon Peacock, and Tony Nguyen are the members of the Math Team.

Excellence Honored

There are many students who make a difference at Northside by participating in academic teams. For those student who enjoy working with numbers and are good at it, the Math Team is an option. The team members must make A's in math and be recommended by their math teacher. At tournaments the team members must take written test. The total team scores are used to determine the winners. This academic team always makes Northside proud for its efforts.

The students in the Honors Program have the opportunity to participate in the Academic Bowl. This is a county activity which is based on general knowledge of all subjects. Those people who had the best record of correct answers were chosen for the team. This year's team included Mike Hester, Ronald Brigmond, and Susan Fuller. Once a week after school, one could hear the 'ding of a bell' as these conscientious students practiced for competition.

This years group received a trophy for their efforts.

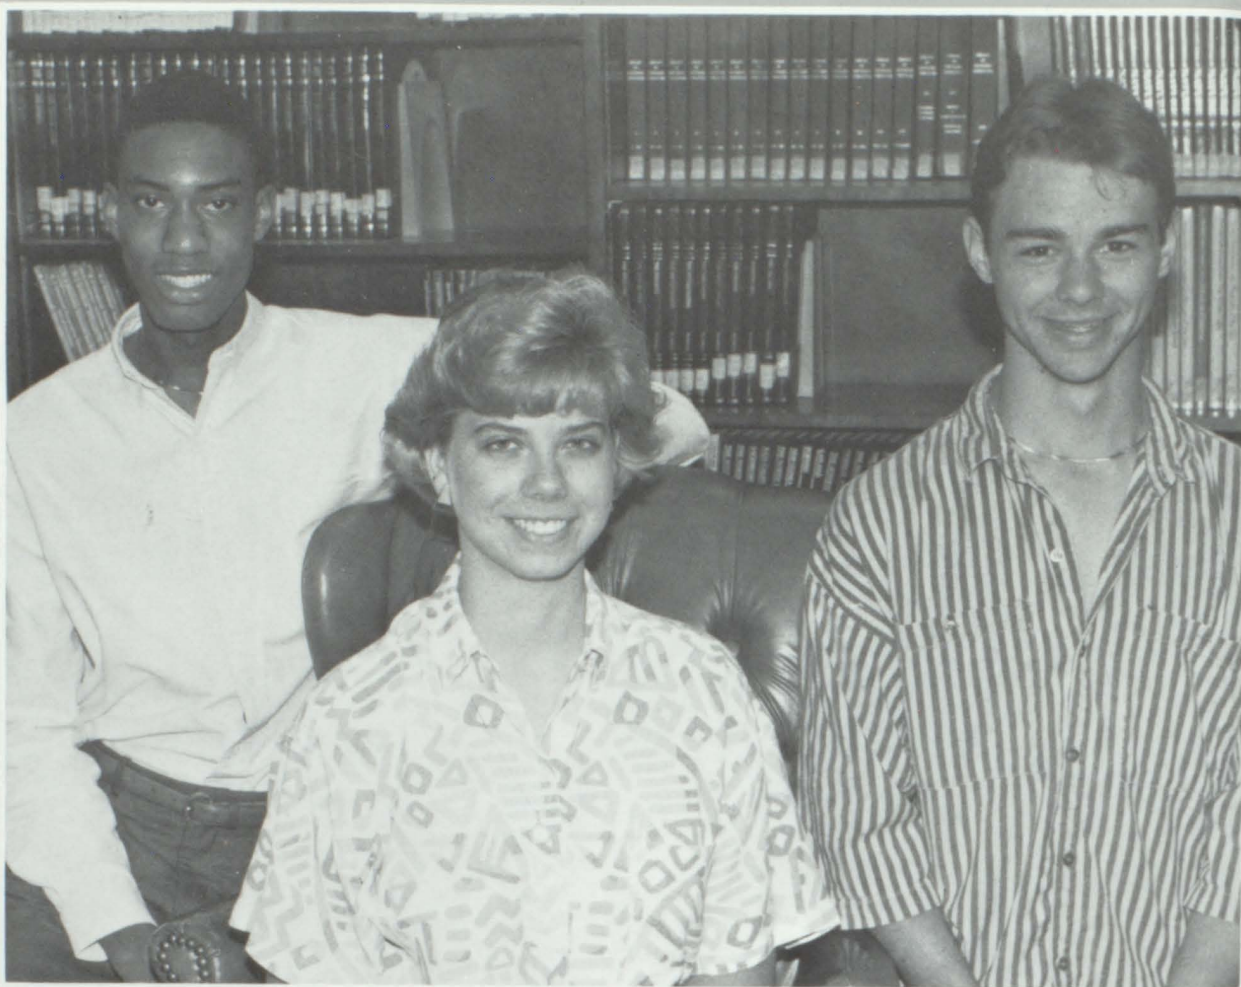

Students chosen as Georgia Scholars must be graduating seniors, who must score 1300 on the SAT and must exhibit excellence in all phases of school and community life.

In the fifth year of Northside's participation in this program, we were reward by having four of our graduates chosen for this honor. They were Michael Carter, Susan Fuller, Tammy Piceno, and Medgar Roberts. For their efforts these four have been given scholarships to further their educations.

Good Things Come. . .

There are so many students who work hard during the year, but there were a few who worked just a little bit harder. For these students who endured long hours of study and sweat, there are many different rewards.

One of the most prestigious honors that can be awarded is the STAR student award. This year's STAR student was Amy Elmore and she chose Mrs. Mary Beth Henke as her STAR teacher. Amy's recognition was due to her extremely high SAT score.

Another award offered to Seniors is the Golden Eagle Award which was sponsored by the Macon Telegraph and News. The nominees from Northside were Mike Carter (Art), Regina Moore (Citizenship), Sherolyn Ford (Drama), Medgar Roberts (English), Jeff Jones (Foreign Language), Will Vinson (Industrial Vocation), Brian Lifsey (Journalism), Tammy Piceno (Math), Dottie

Hunt (Music), Gail Bird (Science), and Susan Fuller (Social Science). Medgar Roberts and Susan Fuller won an overall award for their outstanding accomplishments. Mike Carter and Sherolyn Ford won Honorable Mentions for their talents.

Finally, there is a program that gives attention to Sophomores and Juniors especially. The Governor's Honors Program is a six week session at Valdosta State College. The Program allows exceptional students a chance for extensive study in their category. The areas of study range from Dance to Math. This year's finalists were Ricky McClellan — Math, Lisa Carlson — Science, and Phil Little — Drama.

All of these students worked many years to develop the talents they were rewarded for. All that just goes to show that good things come to those who wait.

Making the Grade

Besides being a special night to honor the Top 5% students here at Northside, it was also the 25th Honor's Banquet that was held Tuesday night, May 24, 1988. Northside was privileged to have as the banquet's guest speaker Mr. Matthew Arthur, who is the Superintendent of Schools in Houston County. Mr. Arthur gave an enlightening speech on the ingredients for success and carefully made his points. These ingredients are effort, luck and attitude. He concluded his speech by commending the honor students for a job well done.

The Top 5% Banquet was indeed an honor well-deserved by these industrious students who reach for the top. The announcement was made of the 1987-88 Valedictorian, who is Miss Tammy Lyn Piceno. Miss Amy Lynn Elmore is this year's Salutatorian.

Each year the Honors Banquet is sponsored by the Student Council of Northside High. The sponsor, Mrs. Brenda Littlefield, and officers of the council were instrumental in seeing that everything went smoothly. The awards are presented by the administration of the school, Mr. Ed Dyson, Mrs. Charlotte Moore, and Mr. Alton Mattox.

Awards that were presented were: letters for first year honorees, sweaters for second year honorees, and a gold bar for their academic sweater for third year honorees.

Rochelle Greer is proud to win the Warner Robins Woman's Club Scholarship.

Mike Carter, Medgar Roberts, Elias Oxendine, Fred Jackson, Brigitte McBride, and Kim Ezell are proud recipients of various military scholarships.

Tammy Piceno, valedictorian is excited about the many scholarships and awards she won.

Amy Elmore, Sherolyn Ford, Gail Bird, Niraj Yadava, Gina McKinley, Bobby Murr, Susan Fuller, and Mike Carter all receive scholarships at the banquet.

Rewarding Accomplishments

To many students, the awards banquet was a night they will never forget. The many scholarships that were issued at the awards banquet will help pay and further many students' educations. The proud parents, relatives and friends listened and watched with pride as the students were issued their awards and scholarships.

Tammy Piceno began the evening by accepting a certificate recognizing her as this year's Valedictorian; this was the first of many scholarships and awards that Tammy was to receive. Next, Amy Elmore was presented a certificate for being the Salutatorian. Afterwards, the excitement began building as the students received their well-earned scholarships.

Those who received military scholarship, whether by appointment, full or partial, were Medgar Roberts, Naval Academy; Elias Oxendine, Navy Boost; Fred Jackson, Navy Prep; Bridgett

McBride, Morgan State Air Force; Michael Carter, Air Force GA Tech; Kim Ezell.

Some of the other scholarship recipients include Michelle Newton, Houston Medical Center Auxiliary; Bobby Murr and Gina McKinley, Macon College Foundation; Richard Powell 1000 Club Gordon College; Max Croft Student Council and Jamie White Scholarship, Sherolyn Ford; Susan Fuller, U of GA Merit and Bulldog Club; Niraj Yadava, GA Tech Merit; Donna Purvis, Berry College Academic; Rochelle Greer, Woman's Club.

Scholarships in the area of music and dance went to Bobby Murr and Susan Calkins, Mercer University of Music; Dottie Hunt, WR Federated Music Club; Gail Byrd, Academy of Dance.

Each of these students worked hard for their accomplishments and were well rewarded.

Dinner Theatre was not all fun, as shown by Matt Shultz and Wayne Brewer as they mop up on Saturday morning.

RUN on Entertainment

Thespian Troupe 2892 has developed many traditions over the past 25 years. From one-acts to Miss Northside pageants, the Thespians have given energy to a number of projects. However, for the past 25 years this talented group of students has had as one of its most successful projects, The Dinner Theatre.

This year's Dinner Theatre was held on April 8th and 9th at Parkwood Elementary School. The delicious spaghetti dinner was prepared by Thespian's parents and supporters of the troupe. The students were responsible for serving the guests and providing entertainment. Many of the thespians had the opportunity to perform for the audience. For many that chance gave them confidence and personal satisfaction.

Each member was responsible for selling six tickets for each night. Also the students were responsible for setting up the entire "cafe" for both evenings.

Although all the acts were super, the highlight of the evening was the performance of the one-act play "Runaways." The group had worked together as a family since late in September to create an award-winning, heart-touching show. They succeeded. The Dinner Theatre paid for the group to go to Jekyll Island on April 21st. On this weekend the cast and crew of "Runaways" had the chance to perform at a Vocational Conference.

The year 1988 proved to be one of growth for the Thespians and Dinner Theatre was only part of this growth.

Spotlight Please!

Each Spring Northside's Thespian's sponsor a play. Director, Ray Horne, chose "Bye, Bye Birdie" a musical comedy that satires the draft of Elvis Presley.

In this case, the singer is Conrad Birdie. Birdie's manager, Albert Peterson, and his Secretary/Girlfriend, Rose Alvarez plan a final farewell to Conrad on the Ed Sullivan show. During the show Conrad is supposed to give one of his fans, "One last Kiss." The plot thickens as Kim's boyfriend, Hugo Peabody, becomes jealous, Conrad wants his freedom, and Albert's mother, Mae, tries to keep him from marrying Rose! The constant confusion and antics of "Bye, Bye Birdie" kept the audience in stitches all three nights.

The show began May 18 with an opening to only senior citizens. It continued on the 19th, 20th, and 21st. For many, especially seniors, Saturday night was the best, because after the show gifts were given out to all the adults who helped with the show.

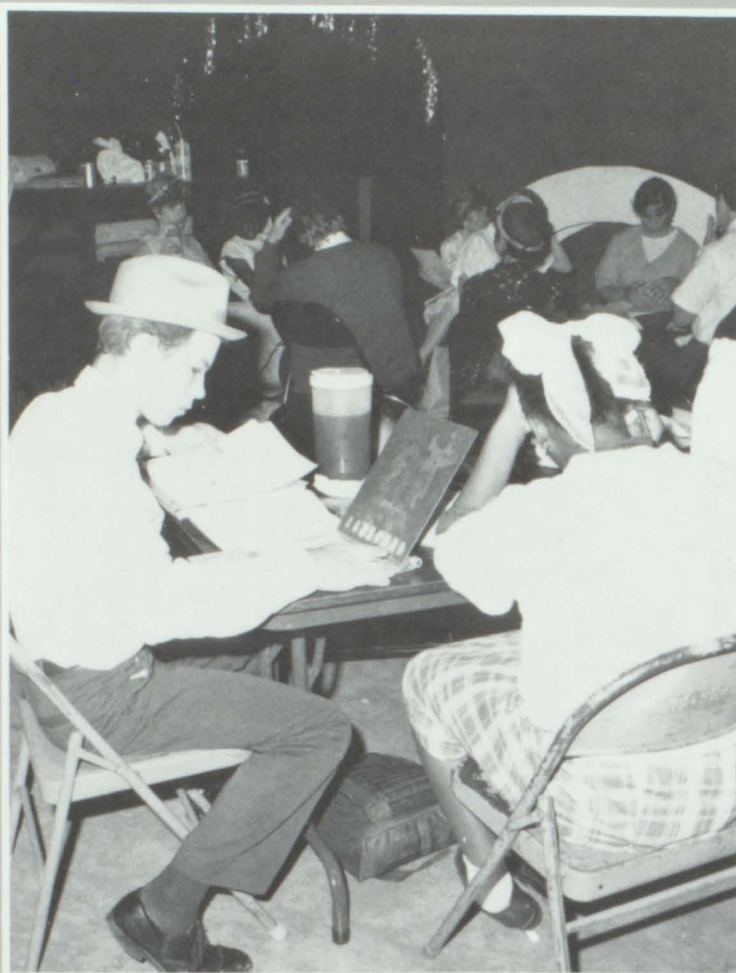

As a special gift to Mr. Horne, the cast bought a swing for his back porch.

All the members in the cast practiced long and hard. They gathered costumes, learned songs, and practiced dances until late in the night for two months. However, all this work paid off in the glitter and gleam of the spotlight. Sophomore, Andrea Allen was quoted as saying, "I really liked it when the show was over and everyone started to clap." For many others in the show, that too was where all the sweat paid off. Of course, the show wore the cast to a bone, however, each member thought the effort was worthwhile. As senior Sherolyn Ford said, "It was terrific because it was my last year in Drama, but I am so glad that it is over so I can get some sleep." This was the attitude of most of the cast, although the story they told of the cast of "Bye-Bye Birdie" will never be forgotten by them or any of the audience.

'The show was great'
Eric McCommen

Mark Rissman spends his spare time backstage studying.

Each night before the show, the cast joins hands to pray which brought them close together.

After a long rehearsal, Stephanie Woods chugs down the rest of her 'Big Squeeze'.

Discussing plans for the cast party are Jalanda Standard and Scott Culpepper.

Working so much together, Dana Woods, Kevin Coleman, and Christie Boulter develop a close friendship.

Backstage with Birdie

Though the spotlight was bright at the Civic Center during "Bye Bye Birdie", it took a great deal of work to get it that way. The students who chose to be in the show began practice in March. At first there were only music rehearsals so that the cast could learn and perfect the harmony in each musical number. These rehearsals were usually from 6-9 every weeknight. Of course, the leads in the show also rehearsed after school from 3:30-5 p.m. Soon, choreographer Ken Raphael arrived from New Orleans to do his fifth Northside Spring Musical. At this point the tension really began to mount. The cast would rehearse from 3:30-5 and again at 6-9 p.m. These rehearsals continued even on Friday night. Saturday and Sunday were also spent practicing, practicing, practicing.

Finally 2 weeks before the opening, Ronnie Babbitt, manager of the Civic Center, opened the door to cast, set crew, and band. During these two weeks, especially the cast, pulled together and worked usually until 10 p.m. to get the show ready. At dress rehearsals, cast members could always be seen with a "Big Squeeze" cooler from Burger King full of juice or water. The floor of the backstage was covered with sleeping bags and coolers. Rob Gordon joked one night and said, "We can just spend the night here and go to school in the morning."

Adults who helped with the behind the curtain work were Mr. Maine and Mrs. Havrilla (set), Mr. Langley (Band Director), Mr. Unruh (Music Director and Costumes), and Ms. Yongue and Miss Tolliver helped in all areas. These adults were very special to the cast because they showed an interest in them and mostly cared.

Naturally, a great deal of sweat, blood, and tears went into the making of "Bye Bye Birdie", but as the curtains were drawn and the story was told everyone knew it was a worthwhile thing.

Education is top Priority

There are many aspects of Northside. There are teachers, students, clubs, activities, and the list goes on and on. Yet, there is one part of Northside that few students ever consider; that part is the Board of Education. It is because of the Board of Education that Northside has the new and improved semester system, QBE, and the upcoming renovations. Also responsible for this is principal, Ed Dyson. Mr. Dyson gave his all to every facet of Northside this year. He often set aside his own personal problems to help students with their problems. Although he was always a friend to students, he was still able to dish out punishment when necessary. Ed Dyson is truly a man who has helped children learn and grow into responsible, intelligent adults.

In the next twenty-five years, Northside will become a more specialized school, especially in computers.

Mr. Dyson happily sits in his office that has served as hosts for hundreds of students, teachers, and parents.

Being principal at Northside, Mr. Dyson has to present a good attitude toward everyone.

Working for our Future

School is less strict, because there are better students now.

Mr. Ed Dyson, the "boss", just could not get along without the help of the assistant principals, Mr. Alton Matton and Mrs. Charlotte Moore. As the vice-principals, Mrs. Moore and Mr. Mattox have very important jobs. They take care of the discipline, regulate the students in the hallways and at break, and take care of the general problems of running the school.

Vocational Supervisor, Mr. Mike Ginn, has been a part of the administration for only one year and has proven to be a valuable asset to the staff.

Even though most of us feel and hear the negative side of the vice-principals, they are very compassionate and understanding. They are adults that the students feel they can go to in time of need.

Mike Ginn, Vocational Coordinator, and a former graduate of Northside, has the daily routine down pat.

In his first year at Northside, Mr. Alton Mattox expresses his pride in being Assistant Principal.

For Mrs. Charlotte Moore, another year as assistant principal means another year of success.

Mrs. Dykes, the senior counselor, always has a smile for all of the nervous college bound students.

Newly selected as the sophomore counselor, Mr. Burgess helps a student decide on his curriculum.

Mrs. Summers is always occupied, either advising a student or discussing a student's studies with a parent.

Behind the NHS Scene

Many Northside students did not realize all the people that worked behind the NHS scene. However, the office staff was the pulse that made Northside move.

The counselors were responsible for guiding confused students through their three years at Northside. Thanks to them, many Northside students received outstanding scholarships.

As for keeping all systems go in the office, there were many people who contributed. Some answered telephones, while others printed tests or just helped out. Northside also had Mrs. Sue Kinsaul as the school's accountant.

As the instructional coordinator, Mr. Gerald Boyd is often at his computer jumbling schedules.

Education opens doors that would be closed without it, and it's a key to opportunities.

Taking a short break from her crazy day to have a snack is Mrs. Sims, the school secretary.

Being the records clerk at Northside means Mrs. McCloud has very little free time.

Secretary Mrs. Conley, spends another hour behind her favorite computer.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Rozier take a break from the library to enjoy an assembly.

Struggling with an armload, Mrs. Rozier makes her way up the stairs.

Mrs. Langston smiles for the camera as she cuts out decorations to brighten the library.

The library is an invaluable resource at Northside, but it takes these three ladies to teach students its importance.

Working Behind the Scenes

Here at Northside there are six custodians. They are behind the scene workers who are responsible for clean floors, a clean campus, and an open school building. They are largely responsible for a great deal, and whether they realize it or not the students here at Northside appreciate them more than they can ever imagine. We sort of take it for granted that the building should be presentable at all times.

For the ladies who work in the Lunchroom, the day begins at 8 a.m. Many students do not realize the hardwork and effort that goes into their lunches.

Mrs. Helen Barfield, Manager, supervises the staff and keep a record of food kept. The remainder of the staff, is responsible for the preparation and service of the food.

These workers are the people Behind the Scenes. They are the part of Northside that is never seen, but vital to keep a the school running smoothly.

Mrs. Barfield makes sure that each piece of chicken comes out just right.

It takes a lot of patience to do a good job.

Members of the janitorial staff are: William Evans, James Johnson, Veola Graddick, Owens Collins, and not in picture is Carl Wright.

According to Mr. Richard Mathis, being part of the janitorial staff is a very challenging and sometimes rewarding job.

Taking money at the end of the lunch line is a tedious chore for Mrs. Ruth Fetters.

HEAD OF

As Thespian Sponsor, Mr. Ray Horne announces the Miss NHS Pageant.

At the football banquet, Coach Porch receives a City Champs shirt.

Col. Mahaffey is a large influence in Northside's award winning ROTC program.

Mrs. Dourough shows care and concern for her student, Song Wang, who is confused about Computer Processing.

THE CLASS

Faculty

Teachers take time out during break to socialize.

Mr. Howard is an enthused member of faculty and serves as Junior Civitan sponsor.

Coach Gallaher puts in many extra hours with the football team.

I come. I listen. I give them a chance.

Only The Best

The title "art" covers much more ground than just drawing and pottery classes. Art includes music, theater production, ROTC, industrial arts, auto repair, electronics, foreign language, and the list goes on and on. The art teachers at Northside are dedicated to teaching their students to be the best. This is portrayed through our award winning band, drama troupe, ROTC, and all of the other art fields at Northside.

Taking a break before morning classes begin, Mr. Horne and Mr. Unruh enjoy chatting with other faculty members.

Being a teacher is hard work, but being a teacher for twenty-five years is a combination of hard work, dedication, and pride in Northside High. We have such a person here at Northside, Mr. Ray Horne.

Mr. Horne went to college and received a degree in drama. When Mr. Horne first came to this school, he taught speech, English, and drama. This has helped him become very successful in the One-Act Competition. When asked what are some things that make him such a good teacher he said, "My students, I care, I listen, I give them a chance." He said the reason why he has such an impressive record in winning the

One-Act is because the cast works hard to win. The only secret he says to this is that in casting, he picks the people that are willing to give their best.

The school has changed a lot since Mr. Horne first began teaching here in 1963. Mr. Horne states that the school has become too grade conscious. He says that, "Students tend to do better when there is no pressure about grades."

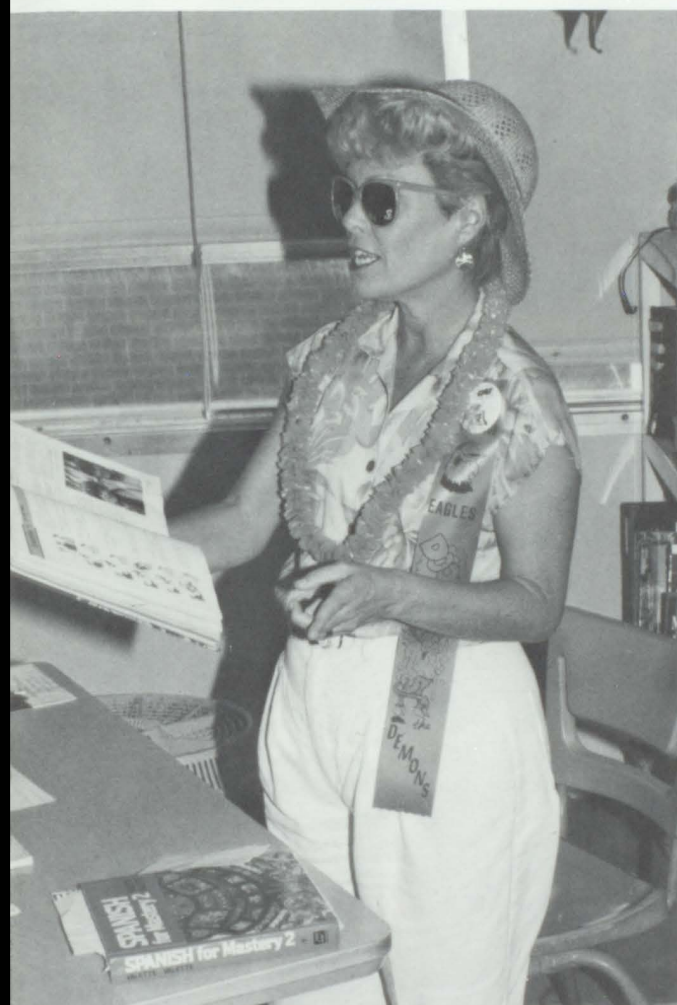

The reason Mr. Horne has stayed at Northside for twenty-five years is because he has been happy here, and he likes the changes that have recently been occurring.

While enjoying the football game, Mr. Angel Compain takes time to talk with some of his students.

Although Mrs. Gissela Myers has been teaching for 15 years, she always takes time out to show her Eagle spirit.

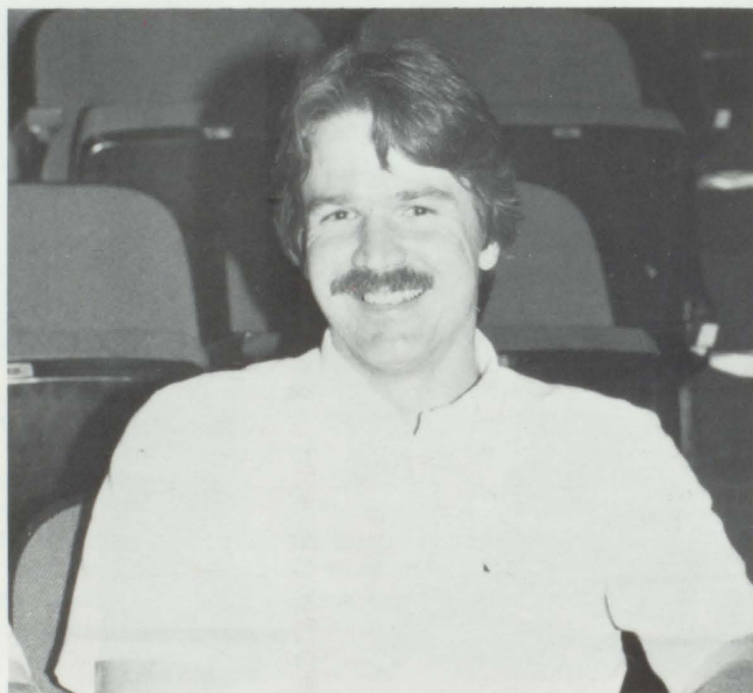

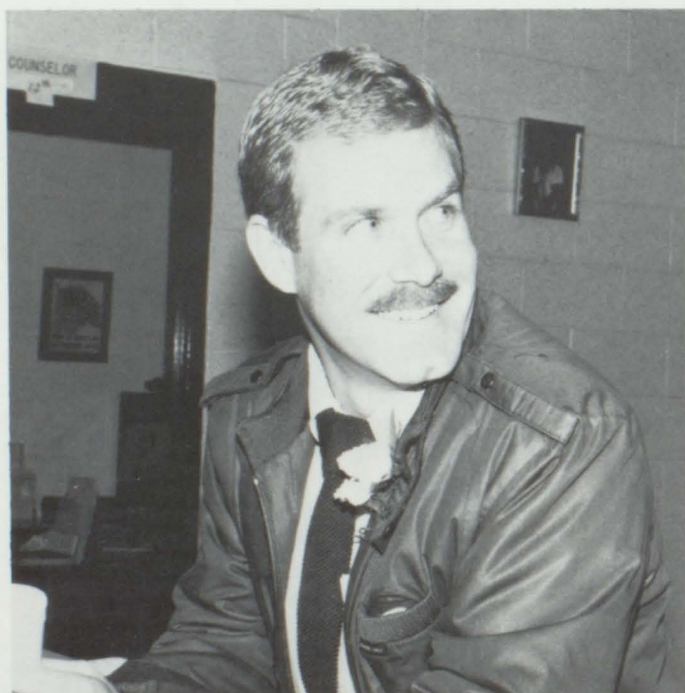

Showing her Northside pride, Mrs. Anne Wainwright dresses up for Wipeout the Demons Day.

Mixing Business with Pleasure

The Business Department here at Northside encourages future business leaders of tomorrow to start a successful career. The classes prepare students to become the business leaders of tomorrow. They teach them to use computers, type, and to work with other people. The enhancement of such skills will help them advance to more professional work later on.

Students need a lot of background in business to be good in the future. In order to get a good background in business, courses such as Typing, from beginning to advanced, Shorthand, Computer Literacy, Applications, and Data Processing will help students work their way into a professional job of tomorrow.

Mrs. Dorough listens attentively as the candidates deliver their speeches for Mr. Northside.

"Education is learning everything you possibly can and continuously striving to learn more."

More and more, computers have become a very important element in the business world. Northside has been one of the more fortunate schools as computer classes have been a part of its curriculum for several years.

Mrs. Gale Dorough, the new computer teacher, feels that a knowledge of computers is important. She said that everybody (students and parents alike) is realizing that no matter what occupation they work in or plan to work in, a knowledge of computers is important. Computers are fascinating and if only for that reason there will always be students interested in computers.

Mrs. Dorough, who was valedictorian in 1976 graduated from Northside and the University of Georgia, said that the major changes that have been made since she was in high school is being able to select your own program of study. This includes the offering of computer classes and more requirements for graduation.

She feels very welcome to teach at Northside, because of the super administration, great faculty, and the wonderful groups of students.

"The nicest thing about coming to Northside is being able to work for Mr. Dyson. He was my geometry teacher in high school. He has made me feel very welcome as a part of the faculty," said Mrs. Dorough.

Back To Basics

How many times do students sit in their English classes and complain about the work that has to be completed? Its too many to even remember. But where would we be without English, whether written and spoken, it is the basic tool of learning. From the first grade on through high school, English skills are built on and reinforced. Without it we would not be able to read or write. Of course, that would mean no more homework, but it would also mean no more magazines, books and probably no Constitution or Declaration of Independence.

English is the key

English, many teachers agree, is the key to education. All of the English teachers at Northside worked exceptionally hard this year to impart this basic skill to all of their students. Even though their free time was cut, and many late nights and gray hairs added, because of the new curriculum requirements handed down by QBE, the dedicated professionals still managed to give 110% to their students. As a result of their skill and encouragement, many students developed a better understanding of their own language.

As a result of Mrs. Murchison's skillful teaching, many students have gained a better knowledge of the English language.

"It was the strong teaching staff at Northside that encouraged me to be a teacher."

Mrs. Susan Murchison, presently a English teacher at Northside, attended our school in 1968, and graduated in 1970. During her years at Northside, she became a valuable asset. She participated in Chorus and Beta club and was also Valedictorian of her graduating class. She says that while she attended Northside, things were very different. Matt Arthur was the principal, girls could not wear jeans, only dresses, and there was a juke box in the cafeteria. She also states that during her high school years, more emphasis was placed on academics than school events and activities. There were no vocational programs, and a very small number of students worked.

While many things were different, some things remained the same. Mr. Dyson was here then, also. The Northside-Warner Robins rivalry was as important then as it has been recently, and the decorations for Spirit Week were customary then, too.

Susan Murchison went on to Macon Junior College, Mercer University, and Georgia College after graduation to prepare herself to become a teacher. We at Northside are very glad that she did, because we appreciate her contribution to our high school days. Thanks, Mrs. Murchison.

Preparing for her next class, Mrs. Belva Lunsford reads over a first aid pamphlet.

Coach Scott makes use of his athletic ability to teach his classes.

For Mrs. Marie Anderson, homecoming is a special occasion.

Teachers Add it Up

Because math is an important part of our life, the math department at Northside is a very important part of our school. Because of theorems, laws, and formulas, math is a difficult course to learn. Many students have a hard time and require a little extra help. Math teachers have to have a special ability to teach and to understand the student's problems. Once the students get the hang of math and solving problems, they begin to enjoy it and think of it as a challenge.

For the college bound student, the route of Algebra to Calculus is the way to go. For those students who do not plan to go to college, Personal Finance or Computer Math might be for them. Courses are offered by the Math Department and taken by the student that will best benefit the individual in the future.

Mr. Ronnie Walker enjoys a quiet moment during a departmental meeting to just relax.

Education has improved greatly because of the variety of offerings.

Since math is a very hard subject for most of the student body, the math teachers really do have a lot on their hands, and Mrs. Patricia Ogletree is no exception. She is one of Northside's many "special" teachers who do all they can to help the students.

In math, there are often so many rules to remember that the problems can be confusing and difficult to solve. For this reason, teachers present the material in such a way that the students will be able to understand. Mrs. Ogletree can often be seen in her room long before school as well as after school helping students to understand math.

A graduate of the University of Georgia, she also attended Macon College and Georgia Tech. She feels that education has improved greatly because there are more choices in class offering. She wants her students to take advantage of these opportunities. Mrs. Patricia Ogletree is truly a valued asset to the school not only because she is an excellent teacher, but a remarkable person.

Creating A Chain Reaction

One of the academic departments here at NHS is the Science Department, which is composed of some of the most hard-working and talented teachers of the school. A major purpose of the science department is to instill among the students a growing interest in the world of science and technology. With this interest, some students may decide to choose a career involving scientific study and others may very well become the nation's future doctors, engineers, biologists and other professions which are just as important.

Teaching science is just like creating a chain reaction. Once a spark of interest is ignited, there are various exciting possibilities which arise. Every aspect leads to a chain of unlimited opportunities waiting to be unlocked.

Mr. Sipe is always concerned about the progress of his students.

Effective teachers and administrators are critical to the success for Education.

Mr. Robert Sipe has been teaching science in Houston County since 1970. Since then, he has taught at Northside Jr., Warner Robins Jr., Warner Robins High, and is currently in his fifth year of teaching at Northside.

When asked what education meant to him he replied "Education means providing adequate opportunities to acquire competency in communicating and thinking — the so-called reading, writing, arithmetic skills. Effective teachers and administrators are critical to the success for education."

He also added that he has seen many changes in student priorities since entering the teaching profession 18 years ago. Students seem to be less concerned about social, racial, and enviromental issues and more concerned with employment, careers, and material needs.

Because he enjoys helping students grow mentally, is the reason Mr. Sipe likes teaching. He constantly strives to make science more meaningful and relevant. This involves teaching more than just the facts. There is the need to be creative in presenting the concepts and challenging the students to think as much as possible.

Northside has an outstanding academic program that is now recognized as a School of Excellence. Our biggest need is to improve the learning environment and with the help of the new air-conditioning will make a big difference.

Mr. Rozier, Mr. Sipe, Mr. Stuart, and Mr. Hinson are all men of science.

History in the Making

History, Ancient Civilizations, Geography and World Culture all fall under the heading of Social Studies. Although, each is a totally different class, the knowledge learned often fits together perfectly.

In Social Studies, students are taught the histories, problems, and cultures of different countries and their governments. By studying these things and discovering the advantages and disadvantages, students give themselves an insight as to what problems and solutions the future may bring.

Being a graduate of Northside High School, Mrs. Newberry is proud to set an example for her students.

"School was very much like it is now — with a few exceptions."

According to Mrs. Jennie Newberry, school was very much the same in 1973 as it is now with a few exceptions.

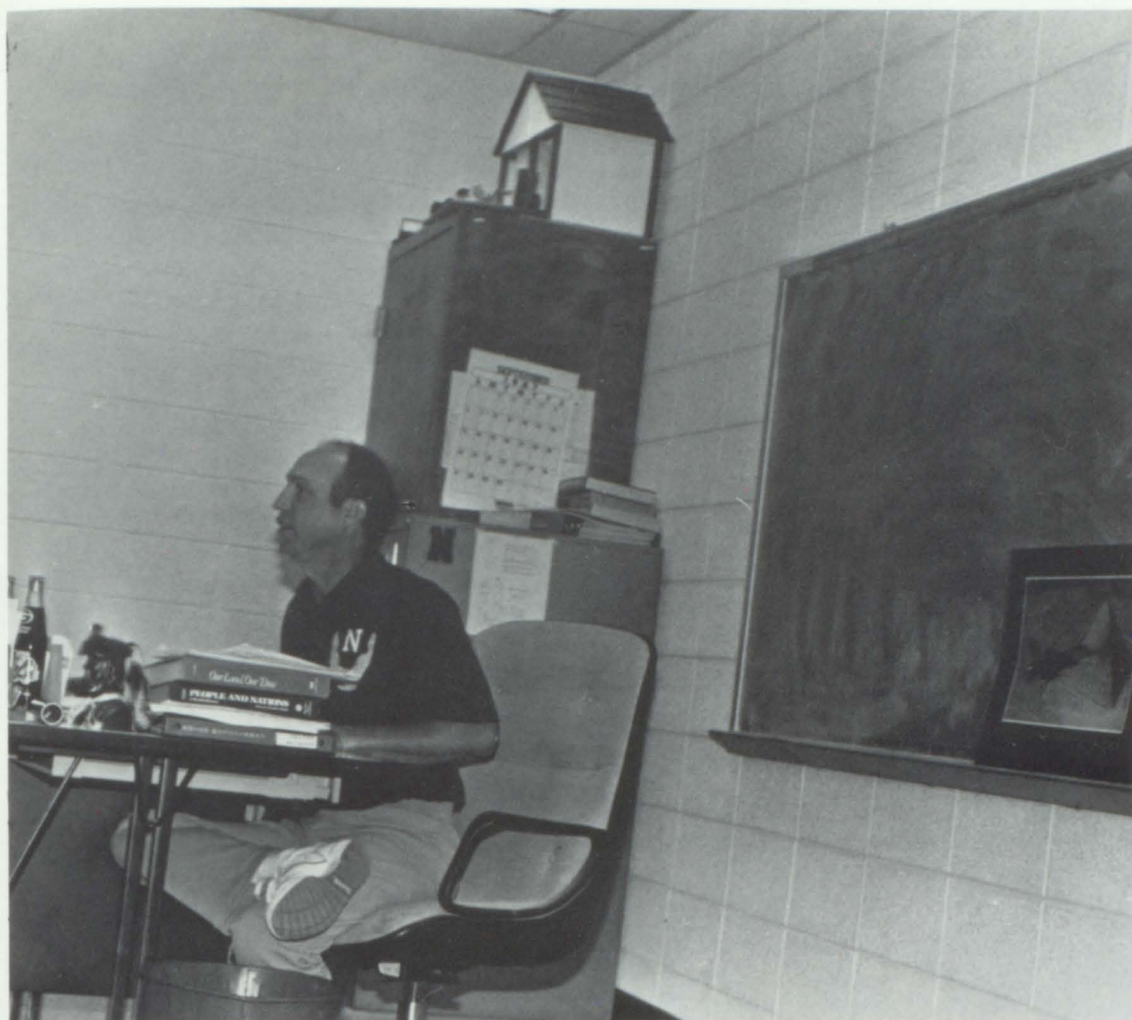

In 1973, when Mrs. Newberry was a Senior, the breakroom was a formal conference room with a huge table and chairs. This room was used for teacher meetings and also parent-teacher conferences. There was no vocational building and definitely no air conditioning. There weren't even fans in the lunchroom.

But some things will always remain the same. Traditions such as keeping the sophomores upstairs and homecoming festivities are still the same. And hopefully these traditions will remain so in the next 25 years. During her years here at Northside, Mrs. Newberry developed a positive outlook towards people. "That positive view of people has survived even through the difficult times," she states. This positive view is conveyed through her teaching and her teacher-student relationships.

When asked if she could change anything at Northside today what would it be, she replied, "Having students memorize the Alma Mater and have them stand for the school fight song."

New Paths to Follow

As the sophomore class entered Northside High School for the very first time, they really had no idea of what to expect.

The sophomores found the first week was the worst. Not having any idea of where exactly their classes were, teasing remarks from the upperclassmen, and being scared of leaving the "upstairs" lobby, were all factors which led to a frightened end product.

Traditionally, the sophomores hold class elections after the juniors and seniors. When the time came to run for office, the sophomores debated on whether or not they would run, but finally decisions were made and the campaigning began. Signs were posted all around the school which said "Vote for me!" Campaign stickers were given out; a few candidates splurged and handed out candy to encourage classmates to vote for them. The election were held in early October, and eventually the winners were announced.

The sophomore class president, Scott Felton, expressed how it felt to be in his position by saying, "It really is an honor to be class president. I plan to do my best in serving all of the sophomore class in any way possible."

The sophomore class officers were as follows: Scott Felton, president; Samantha Good, vice-president; Beth Scott, treasurer; Elaine Summers, secretary; Angel Bowen, projects chairman.

A New Year

This year's election for Jr. class officers brought new faces to the scene. One of these became President.

The juniors campaigned like mad to win their classmates votes. A person could notice all the signs, tags, or buttons on the walls and on other peoples body. There were no speeches given by the juniors, but some heavy campaigning did go on.

The slogans were catchy, colorful, and very original so that they could catch everyone's eye. Most of the offices took more than one run off for each office and the officers were finally chosen after all the hard work was put into all the campaigning that was done.

Three of the officers held the same or similar positions last year, and are familiar with what is expected of them.

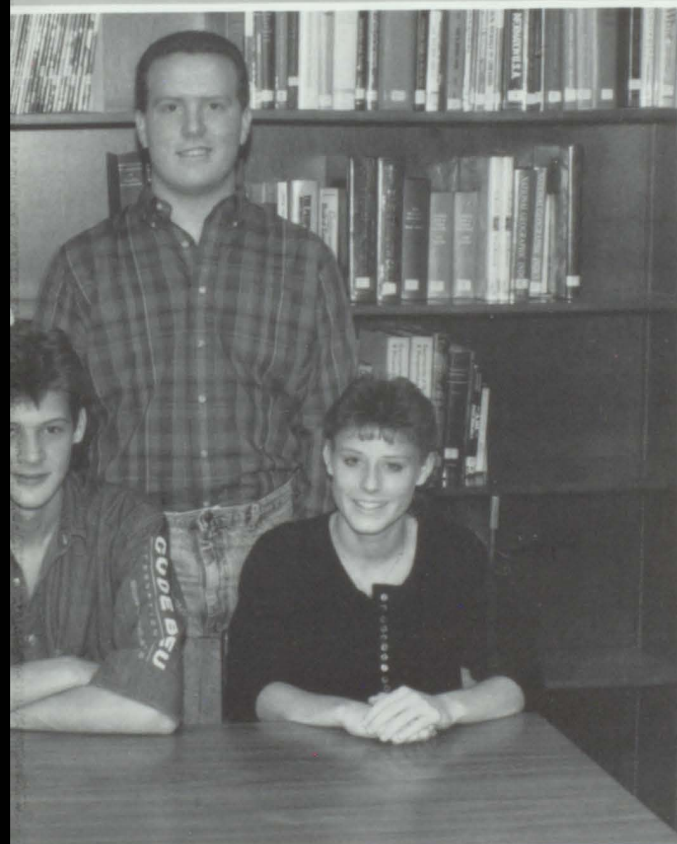

The Jr. class officers had the responsibility of the magazine sales money, decorations of the Jr. Hall during Spirit Week, and the most strenuous of all is the sponsorship of the Jr./Sr. Prom that the juniors sponsor every year in the early spring.

The Jr. Class Officers for the 1987-88 school year are: Caleb Carter, Pres.; Mike Hester, Vice Pres.; Ronda Huddleston, Sec.; Rhonda Upshaw, Treasurer; and Tangela Robinson, Proj. Chairperson.

This is the tradition from the past. Once again, the annual junior magazine sale was a success, this year raising $9,468.01, to be used to cover the expenses of the junior-senior prom. Those students who were the top five sellers were awarded various prizes. They are as follows: Karen Parrish, Glenn Faircloth, Dea Hillock, Amy Moneyhan, and Kelli Hilliard. Dea Hillock was awarded a cash reward of $100 for selling the most magazines on the first turn in day.

In appreciation of their accomplishments, they were awarded such prizes as portable radios, miniture television sets, mugs, key rings, and various other articles.

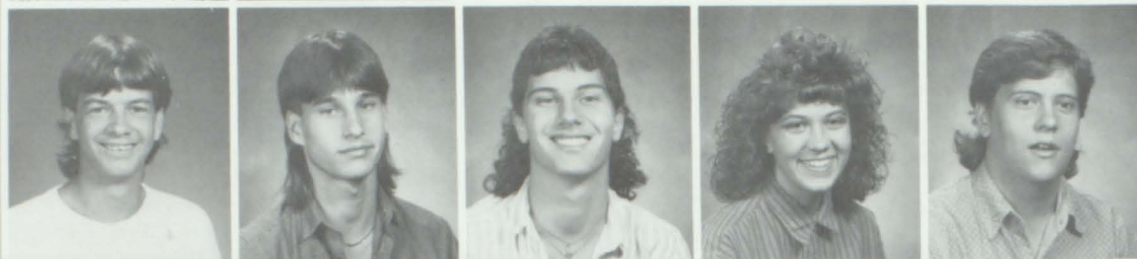

Those juniors who sold five or more magazine subscriptions received a free prom invitation and a key ring, which makes their hard work worth while.

Donna Purvis and Mike Carter stand in the lobby to get a breath of fresh air.

Fads are an important part of fashion as shown here by Dwayne Jolley and Tracy Gurr.

Feelings of Forever

It seems as though Tyrone Blackmon has irritated his prom date.

It was a beautiful day on May 14 and for some Northside students, it turned into a beautiful night. Feelings of forever was the theme of the Junior Senior Prom, and the feelings that were shown at the prom were surely everlasting. It was a last chance for everyone to share a night together before graduation would send students their separate ways.

The evening began with the escort picking up his date, the traditional photo session held by parents, and the exchange of corsages and boutonnieres. Many couples double dated, some couples went alone, while other couples went in groups of ten or more. Popular places to eat were Steak and Ale, The Green Jacket, and Harbor Pointe, all located in Macon. Some people preferred to stay in Warner Robins and ate at Richard's or Schooner's. After the prom, many people had breakfast at Shoney's, the Waffle House, or Krystal. After eating dinner, everyone headed back to the Radisson to socialize with friends.

Olga Chouridis, Tony Nguyen, Rhonda Rhodes, and Kevin Coleman wait in line for pictures.

A Lot of Dance

Shanna Weaver and John Dehart seem to be having a wonderful time at the prom.

This year's prom season brought along a diversity of style and trends. Many of the students who attended the prom brought along many combinations of dress. Some of the girls wore mini-dresses and even tuxedos. The guys sported a variety of tuxedos. Girls often buy their dresses in advance, but a few wait until the last minute and have a hard time finding the perfect dress.

Many couples plan several months ahead to be sure of a successful prom evening. Usually parents are more permissive and many students are allowed to stay out later than normal. Some people stayed the night at house parties. No matter what a couple did after the prom, the next morning was filled with memories.

Limousines were a popular form of transportation for couples who really wanted to make prom night a memorable event. Being without a date did not keep people at home, for many came stag or came with friends not classified as dates.

Celebration Day

On June eighth, the seniors took a celebration day! It all began at 10:30 that morning at the football stadium where they congregated to rehearse for graduation. When the practice was over, the seniors caravanned over to Northside to demolish the parking lots with toilet paper. Immediately following this tradition of disaster, the seniors loaded their cars again and headed to Dry Lake Park for a picnic. Once there the major activities were eating, swimming, and laughing. This was the day that the seniors could spend together reliving old times and making new ones. Being together in the sun and excitement of graduation provided many memories for the members of the Class of 88!

Relaxing at a picnic table, Susan Calkins waits for her friends.

Speaking before the crowd Jon Peacock comes to a serious moment in his speech.

Receiving his diplomas from Mr. Dyson, Aaron Perry has the feeling of accomplishment.

Leading his line into graduation ceremonies is Medgar Roberts, Senior Class President.

Reflecting back on the hard work and good times is Bobby Murr.

Grad Night '88

Into every life a graduation must fall! And the Class of 88 was no exception. The graduation took place at Northside Gym with the stands packed. About 9 p.m. the procession began while the band played "Pomp and Circumstances". Giving the invocation was Gail Bird, followed by Amy Elmore speaking on excellence in academics. The Susan Fuller and Tony Nguyen gave their speeches, after which an excited group of seniors received their diplomas. Once the purpose for being there was over, Valedictorian, Tammy Piceno, gave the Farewell Speech and the Concert Choir sang "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," and "That's what Friends are For". After that the Class of 1988 was dismissed from Northside Forever.

Before receiving her diploma Jenny Bradley smiles at her parents in the stands.

Trying to pin her hat in place before the ceremony is Monica Wilson.

Celebrating is the word for Shelton Billings and Vince Black.

Sweating it out during the ceremony are Keith Moore, Regina Moore, and Valencia Moore.

The enormous crowd adds to the confusion of the evening for some of the honor graduates.

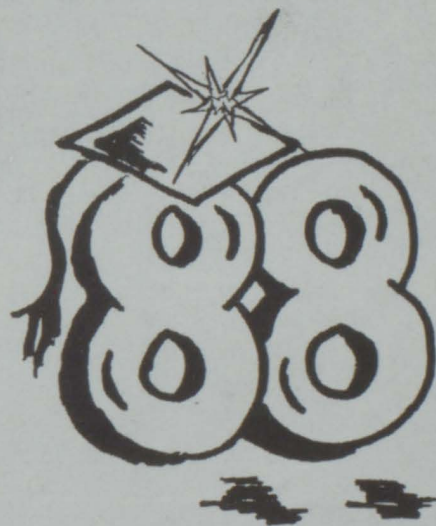

Making the best of the rain and mud are J.R. Dunagan and Rose Ellis.

A Change of Tradition

On June 9, 1988, the Class of 88 graduated from Northside High School. However, the ceremony that occurred that evening brought a change of tradition to the graduation ceremony. When graduates and guests arrived at the stadium at 8 p.m. that evening, they were met with lightning, thunder, and showers of rain. Due to the change in the elements, the graduation ceremony was moved to the Northside gym. It was close to 9 p.m. before the graduates marched into the gym that was packed to the ceiling with guests and teachers. Because there was so much heat in the gym, many of the graduates were seen with their robes unzipped fanning themselves! Although the ceremony lacked a certain seriousness of manner, the graduates had a good time during their last time together.

A Classic Variety

Seniors

The choosing of the 1987-88 Senior Class Officers was difficult because of the variety of leadership abilities and talents displayed by the students who ran for the various offices.

When the run-off elections were completed and the votes counted, Medgar Roberts claimed the title of Senior Class President. Dee Dee Durden, with a close second became the Vice President; Rochelle Greer, Treasurer; Monica Freeman, Secretary; and Sharolyn Ford, Projects Chairperson.

The decision to run for an office is just the beginning for the candidate. Then comes the campaigning, which includes speeches, promises, posters, and stickers. After the first balloting, top candidates from each category were chosen for a run-off election. These few were also given the opportunity to make a speech before the senior class.

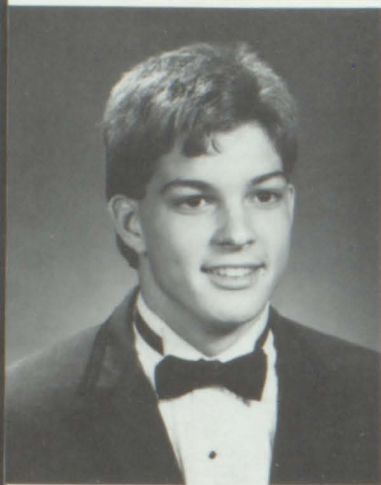

The Senior Class Officers are in charge of the planning and execution of the Senior Class activities. Some of which include the Senior Class parking stickers, the Senior Barbeque, and the Senior Ball.

Double Vision

Seeing "doubles" is a quite common occurrence because there are several sets of identical and fraternal twins that attend school at Northside High.

Identical twins look exactly alike. It is almost as if you were looking into the mirror at yourself. There are two sets of such twins here: Janet and Jennifer Luper and Kelly and Keeley Hamilton. The most common problem that they have is that their friends, family and teachers get them mixed up and call them by the other's name.

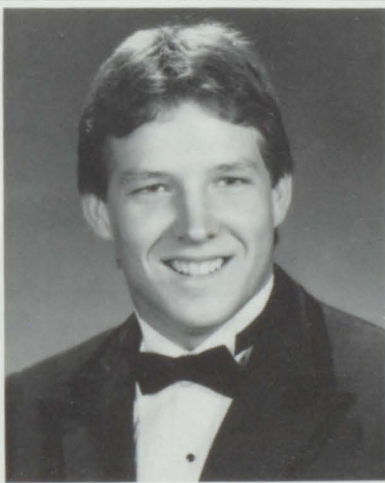

Fraternal twins do not look alike. This type at Northside are: Mike and Marc Herrington, Lemar and Lynette Jones, Angela and Henry Halston.

A set of identical twins was asked how it felt to have a look alike replied, "It doesn't feel any different than having a regular sister."

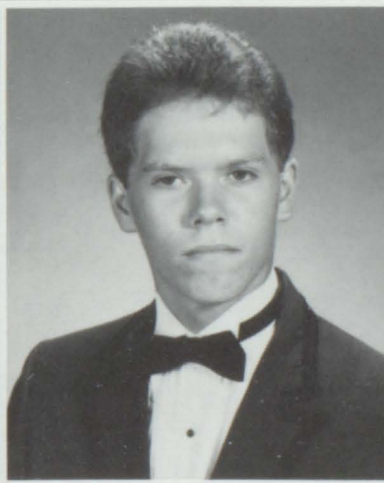

Palling around together is an everyday thing for Janet Luper and Jennifer Luper.

Each year twenty lucky seniors are given the honor of being known as Outstanding Seniors. Any senior interested fills out an application which calls for all school activities. The student receives a certain score for each activity he participates in. After all applications are turned in and the scores totaled, the top twenty scores are named Outstanding Seniors. Being named to this group is a select honor that many work for from the beginning of their Sophomore year. Of the honor Steve Chastain said, "I've been working toward this for a long time. The effort was worth it."

FOOTBALL

A Challenging Finish

The 1987 football season was a very special time for the dedicated fans who have followed the Eagles throughout the years. The season marked the 25th anniversary of Northside.

The Northside High School football season started off with tough battles but finished with unforgettable victories. The Eagles first two games with Tift Co. and Morrow were the toughest games the Eagles would face the entire season. Unfortunately, both games were losses. The Eagles went on to have a successful season. The third game was against inter-county rival, the Perry Panthers. The Eagles didn't have any trouble racing over the Panthers for an easy victory. The next game was an easy victory. The next game was away, when the Eagles traveled to Macon to collide with the Northeast Raiders, who took an early lead, but could not withstand the Eagles force.

The Eagles who played the Baldwin Braves were considered the underdogs. The Northside Eagles would prove this untrue as they rolled into an easy victory against the Braves. The challenge of the season came when the mighty Eagles battled the Southwest Patriots. The Patriots were 5-0 going into the game, but the Eagles would soon change this. Only giving up 3 points, the Eagles were able to capture an overwhelming 36-3 victory against the Patriots.

In the next regular season game, the Eagles had an upset and defeat. When playing the Central Chargers, the Eagles, unable to prevail, lost the game by 1 point. Always being a special time of the year, the Hephzibah game marked the 25th Homecoming game for the Eagles. The Eagles put on a great show as they rolled into victory against the Hephzibah Rebels.

The Eagles traveled to Augusta to take on probably their toughest opponents of the year, the Evans Knights. The Knights who had a flawless season, would really be a test of ability for the Eagles. The Northside Eagles could not overcome the Knights who won by a point.

Lending a hand, Ira Hudgens, #86, tries to "cool down" quarterback Mark Ivory, #11.

Pat Crawford, #48, takes a break from the action as he "chills" on the side lines.

Getting into position, Terrence Dodson, #89, prepares for the kick.

Twice is Nice

In the hearts of all true Eagle fans, the dates of November 14 and 20 represent an incredible reality. The first region game in which the Eagles met their cross town rivals was a very intense game for both teams. Under the leadership of second year coach, Stan Gann, the Eagles were able to defeat the odds and devour the Warner Robins Demons twice in one season.

The first game proved to be a test of stability for the Northside Eagles. The Demons took a strong lead which lasted into the fourth quarter of the game. It would not be until the last 2 minutes and 48 seconds of the game before the Eagles would explode and take control of the game. Down by 14 points, the Eagles scored a touchdown with 2 minutes and 44 seconds left in the fourth quarter. Receiving momentum from the crowd, the Eagles pushed on to score and tie the game, causing their cross town rivals to head into overtime. The overtime final score proved to be disastrous for the Warner Robins Demons who lost with the final score being 27-14.

The first region playoff game for the Eagles was a somewhat easy task. The Eagles, who once again played the Demons, defeated some very overwhelming odds. The Northside Eagles, who have not successfully beaten the Warner Robins Demons in a region game since 1964, would once again prevail with a final score of 10-0. The championship region game 4-AAAA against Evans was definitely a battle of equal forces. As stated by Coach Randy Hinson, "It wasn't a case of the better team won, but of which team could withstand the other." The Eagles would only score once against the Evans Knights who would win 9-7.

The football players show their energy as they burst through the "Breakfast of Champions" sign.

Peter McKenzie gives that winning kick for the extra point.

Tackling comes naturally for Aaron Moore, #81, as he brings down his Warner Robins opponents.

Motivating the crowd, Tony Cody speaks at a night pep rally.

Stressing his point, Coach Scott explains the play to the football players.

With great determination, Richard Hall, #21, glides over everyone to score a touchdown.

Teamwork is a major factor in the Eagles continued success.

The numbers on the scoreboard say it all.

Winners

The annual Football Banquet is an occasion so that the marvelous performers of the previous football season may be recognized. The banquet was a time for looking back at what our wonderful football team accomplished. With the help of the cheerleaders, Booster Club members, coaches, and, of course, the parents, our Northside Eagles captured the City Championship and placed 2nd in the region. The football players with their outstanding abilities who helped capture these titles were the main award winners. To receive one of the many awards was a great honor, but those players who did not receive a special award are special in other ways.

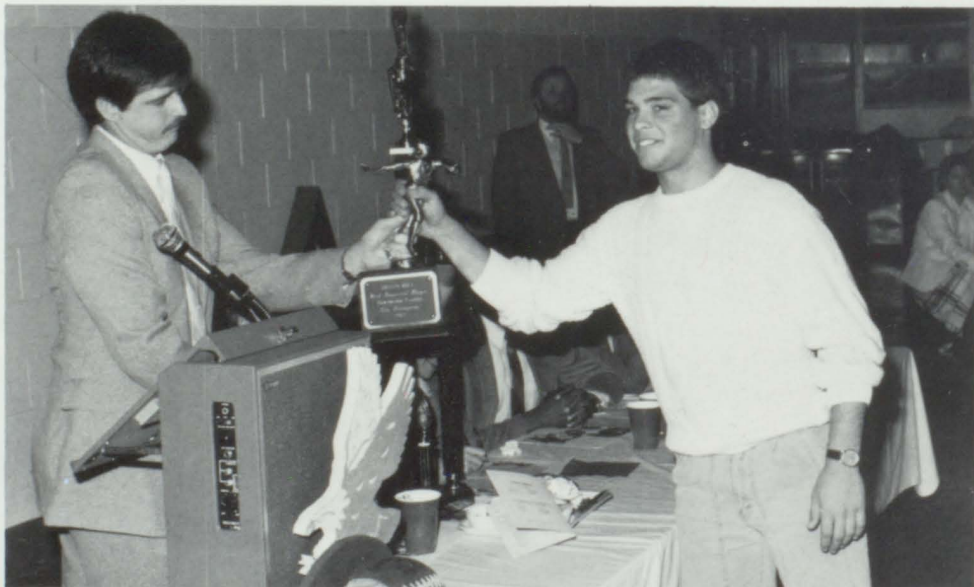

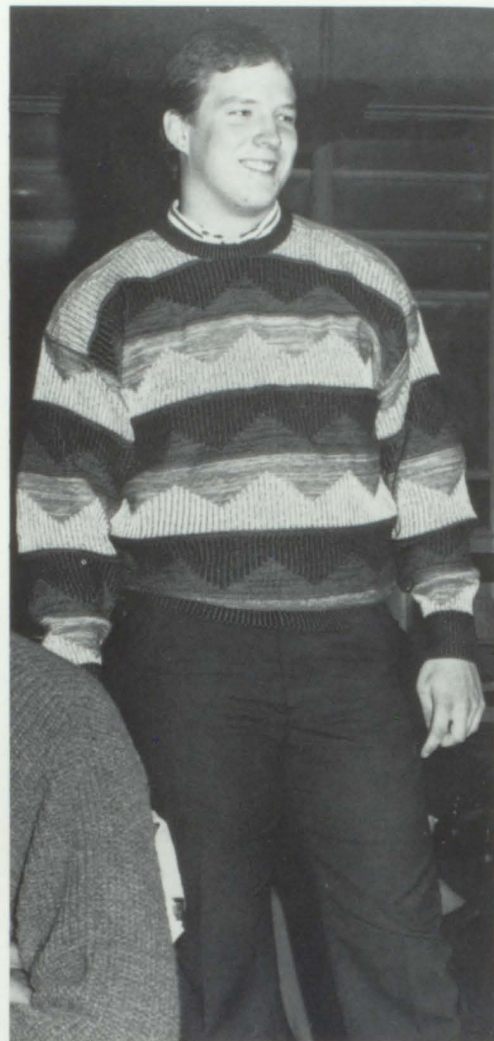

Coach Gann tried to make all his Seniors feel special by saying a few words about each one. As Coach Gann spoke of his Seniors, many memories and great times were laughed about while the sadness of the students last football season finally came to an end.

CHEERLEADERS

tradition is back

Yes! The tradition is back, a winning tradition that is. For the past two years, the varsity cheerleaders have fallen short of being first place winners at their annual summer camp, but the summer of 1987 brought back the winning tradition. Not only did the varsity squad win the First Place award, but they also received awards for spirit, jumps, stunts and cheer execution. The girls also won the 110% award for giving their all. The varsity squad entered an additional pyramid and chant competition and won first place in both events.

The first place prize and additional prizes came as a surprise to everyone. The surprise came, not from the lack of talent, but lack of experience. The varsity squad consisted of ten juniors and only two seniors. "Our juniors did a good job. We're very proud of them. We just hope they can keep up the reestablished winning tradition," says the captain, Dee Dee Durden and the co-captain, Kellie Yaughn.

This year, like years past, the cheerleaders attended the annual summer camp at Georgia Southern College. From June 21, 1987 until June 24, the girls were busy with cheerleading, cheerleading and more cheerleading! A typical day started around 7:00 a.m. and ended around 9:30 p.m. with constant cheering in between.

When the school year started, the varsity cheerleaders started to get busy once again. The varsity squad was constantly keeping the spirit level high here at Northside. Making special signs for the football team and sticking with the basketball teams through their very busy schedule was only the beginning.

The captain and co-captain for this year's varsity squad are Dee Dee Durden and Kellie Yaughn.

Kelli Hilliard smiles as she waits patiently for the band to play.

The varsity cheerleaders get ready to load themselves on the firetruck for the Homecoming parade.

As a known fact, NORTHSIDE really does rule!

Kelli Hilliard, Dee Dee Durden, Melanie Harrison, and Lisa White show off their 'other talent'.

The cheerleaders carry on the tradition of the spelling of EAGLES!

Showing her disapproval of the crowds' reaction is Langelia Gaston.

CHEERLEADERS

Forever Friends

Being dedicated to a group such as a cheerleading squad is not all fun and games. Hard work is involved along with long hours of sweating, getting yelled at, and even breaking dates with your boyfriend on the weekends. Sometimes the dedication is the only thing that can keep a cheerleader going when she feels like she just wants to give up. Well, nobody gave up and everyone's spirits were still high at the end of the basketball season.

Along with this hard work came friendships. Not just ordinary friendships, but very special ones. When the twelve cheerleaders worked together, they realized that no one is better than the other one, and they were all out there for one reason. That reason is to cheer together as a team, all for one and one for all. This is still true even after one of the squads members moved out of the state. Her name is Langela Gaston and she was more than just a major contributor to the squad — she was a friend. When Langela moved, the circle of good friends was broken, yet it can never be destroyed.

This squad, like any other, just isn't the same with one of it's members missing. Of course Langela will be missed, but the friendships gained will never be forgotten. The squad is together in each others heart no matter how many miles separate them, therefore, making these friendships forever!

Strategy Tactics

The 1987-88 boys basketball team faced some competitive challengers throughout the year. The Eagles went through the season with a rather small team. Many new rules kept players from trying out. Second Varsity Coach Ronnie Walker said, "Since we had a few problems and a small team to work with, we learned as a team how to overcome all obstacles." The main concentration was just maintaining the balance of the team. A variety of players played and there were really no star athletes. Winning was truly a team effort.

The Eagles had routine practices each day at 5:30. The coaches enforced many drills, which built up fast reflexes. "The ability to think quickly is an important part of playing the game," said captain Vince Black. The Eagles ended their very competitive season with a 9-18 record. Even though the boys didn't win every game, they were able to hold their own in a very difficult region, and that was a big achievement.

Key To Experience

The 1987-88 basketball season moved by quickly for the Lady Eagles. Although the Eaglettes were a generally young team with only two seniors, both Coach Hinson and Coach Carreker felt that equal playing time was essential in gaining valuable experience.

The young team faced many fierce teams. Most games ended in some very close battles. The girls ended the season with a moderate 9-18 record. Although the Lady Eagles only advanced once in the sub-region play-offs, the experience gained can only bring greater knowledge to the young team.

The team, because of inexperience, realized quickly the responsibility of playing basketball. This fact is important, says Varsity Coach Randy Hinson. Another important factor in the development of a good team is the amount of practice on a daily basis. The girls usually had practice everyday at 3:30 to 5:30. Second year Varsity player Keshea Madison said, "I think that daily practice is essential for a well-rounded team." Coaching also played a major role in the teams accomplishments. Both Coach Carreker and Coach Hinson have lead the Lady Eagles in the past. Each coach feels that strategy is of great importance in the success of a team.

The Lady Eagles, who were headed by captain Kim Ezell, ended their season with great expectations for the coming year.

J. V. A Look at the Future BASKETBALL

For a record of 5-3, the J.V. basketball team looked ready to take on some Varsity action. The boys only lost 3 games; two were lost by 6 points while the other game was lost by 2 points.

There were three players who averaged in double figures per game. These players are Pat Crawford, Patrick Williams, and Roy Jeffcoat. In the game against Mary Persons, Crawford and Jeffcoat both scored 21 points to help the team defeat the Bulldogs 79-47.

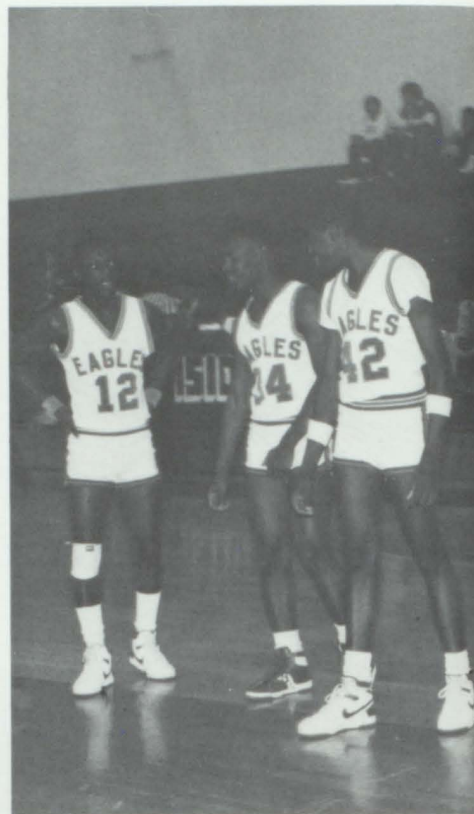

Next year the Varsity basketball coach will know what he can get out of these uprising Juniors. They will learn to adjust to better competition and improving on their basketball skills. These young basketball players will definitely add good depth and will help to replace the graduating Seniors.

The J.V. girls basketball team carried on another great season. This year the girls went undefeated. Coach Carreker pushed her team to the limit to play as well as they did. Lisa Milton paced the team with an average of 15.5 points per game. Not far behind her was Lisa Draper with an average of 9.25 points per game. On defense, Laquita Thrower led for the highest number of rebounds per game.

One thing about the team that seem to stand out was the fact that the team played as a team. There were no superstars to out shine anyone else. This attitude seemed to help make the team win all their games.

J.V. Learn true blue spirit CHEERLEADERS

It started in April of 1987 when these fourteen girls came together to form Northside's 1987-88 junior varsity squad. In April, each of these girls were required to try out for a position on the squad. The outcome? The outcome was fourteen of the best cheerleaders that the sophomore class had to offer. After the excitement of making cheerleading decreased, the need for practice began. Practice soon began with the intention of going to cheerleading camp. The J.V. squad practiced long and hard only to find that plans for camp had been cancelled, but practice didn't stop. The cheerleaders then started to get ready for the upcoming football and basketball seasons. All in all, the J. V. squad had a good year under the leadership of their captain, Dana Harrell, and co-captain, Alexis Ande. It didn't take long for the sophomore cheerleaders to understand the meaning of classic Northside Pride.

Hard work and dedication

A very special and hard working team here at Northside deserves to be recognized and appreciated. That team is, of course, the wrestling team which is coached by Coach Scott and Mr. Walker. These coaches take pride in their work and especially their wrestling team. Everybody should be proud of the great coaching abilities and also the hard work which their team puts in. This hard work does not come with just the matches, but with the everyday practice which these boys put in.

This year's wrestling squad is a very young one. The number of sophomores is larger; therefore, with little experience. In fact, out of the team's fourteen members, eight of them are just starting out here at Northside. The weight of the members range from 113 lbs. to 190 lbs. Weight in this sport is very important, because it determines the category in which he will wrestle. Therefore, the diet of these wrestlers is an important part of everyday life.

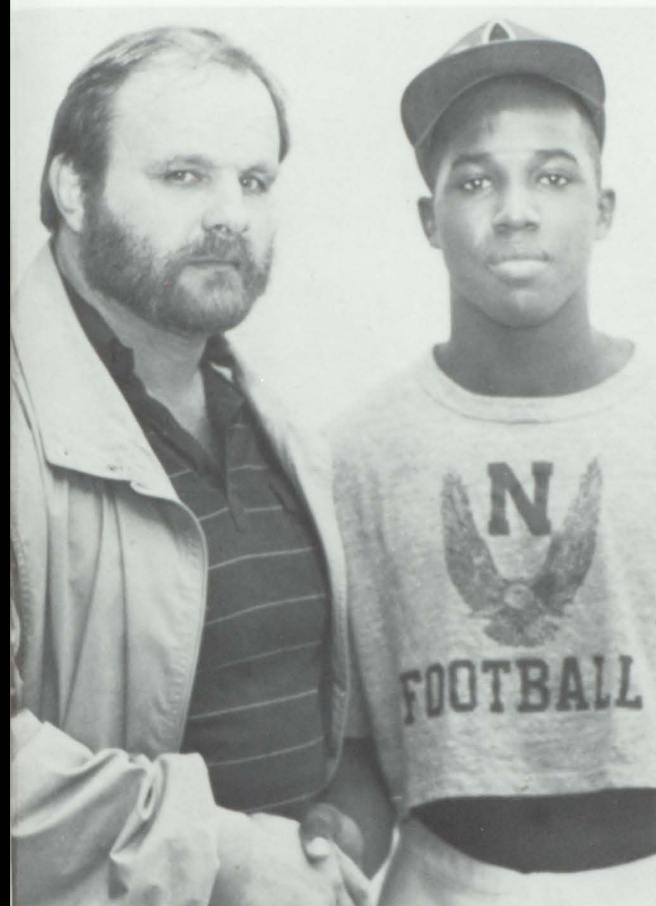

This 'one on one' rivalry is typical of the wrestling matches.

Rewarding Achievers

As the winter sports came to an end, it came time to get ready for the banquet. This annual banquet is held so the members of all four basketball teams and the wrestling team can be recognized. The dedicated athletes, parents, coaches, and cheerleaders, who attended this affair were treated to a dinner and later were able to see many of the individual winners from each team. The cheerleaders were also recognized as they received certificates from their sponsors.

As the affair came to an end and the proud and dedicated coaches said good-bye to their teams, especially the Seniors, the waiting for the next session began. Some team members can look forward to next year's session, while the seniors look back at what great team members and coaches they once had here at Northside.

Boys Quick Action Track

The 1987-1988 Eagles Track Team was made up of a large group of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each member helped to make the season successful. With evening practices, usually at the stadium, the team geared up for the competitive season ahead. They traveled to Gainesville, Florida, where they participated in the Florida Relays. "The Boys performance was not at potential so early in the season, but the experience was good for the teams," said Coach Terry Gallaher.

The annual Robins Relay was held at International City Stadium. Competition was tough, but the Eagles managed a 2nd place standing in these relays. Tony Head successfully broke the State Record in the 100 meter run, which was held by Herschel Walker. Herschel set his record which was of 10.4 seconds for the 100 meter run at these same Relays several years ago. Tony's 100 meter run record is clocked at 10.3.

The last major regular season met was the Region Finals, where Northside placed second. Seven members advanced to the State Semi-finals. Individual winners included Tony Head, 1st in the 220-Meter run and 2nd in 100-Meter. Also, Thomas Brown won 1st in 110-Meter high hurdles. Thomas Brown and Tony Head both hold state records in running events. Although, the mile relay team was disqualified, the Eagles still managed a 3rd place standing overall in the State Finals.

The 1987-88 Eagles' Boys Track Team saw many triumphs throughout the season, which were valuable to the great success of the team.

Girls Track

Running toward success

The 1987-88 Girl's Track Team enjoyed a more than average season. The girls competed against some of the best track teams in the state. To prepare for their competition, the girls began practicing in late January. The practices usually were at NHS track or at the International City Stadium. "Lots of hard work goes into making a good team," says second year coach Vickie Carreker.

The girls competed in six regular season track meets throughout the entire season. They traveled to Macon to run against various high schools in the Coca-Cola Relay. With a good performance in the 400-Meter Relay, the girls held on to an impressive third place win.

One member of the team advanced to state. Kita Thrower competed in the long jump event. On the average the team had a successful year and are looking forward to next years season.

Girls Win Region

Before the 1987 Softball season began, the Northside Eaglettes had high hopes for a classic year. The first game of the season was an example of these hopes. The Eaglettes played cross town rivals, Warner Robins Demonettes. The game was tied until the 6th inning, when the Eaglettes scored three runs to defeat the 1986 4 AAAA State Softball Champs.

The Eaglettes remained undefeated in the sub-region until they played Southwest. This game went into extra innings, but the Eaglettes lost 6-4. During the middle of the season, the team went into a slump and another sub-region was lost, this time to Baldwin County 5-4.

At the end of the season, the Eaglettes had two sub-region loses, while Southwest had one. The girls played the Patriots and defeated them 8-6 to tie for First place in the sub-region.

Another game was played to decide who would be in the number one spot during region play-offs and where the region game would be played. The Eaglettes lost to Southwest, but that loss would be to their advantage in region play-offs.

The Eaglettes had the "winning attitude" during the region tournament. They went undefeated against Hephzibah (one game) and Warner Robins (two games) to win Region and go to sub-state where they lost to Statesboro High School.

Dedication

On the eve of November 4, 1987, the 4-AAAA Region Softball Champs gathered at Quincy's Steak House to celebrate their successful season. Parents, friends, and team members enjoyed a time of togetherness to recognize the achievements of team members. This was the second year Vicki Carreker had coached softball at Northside. She was very pleased to have a team that had won region and moved on to sub-state.

After everyone finished their meal, awards were given out. The two captains, Carol Antoine and Robin Jones, who were chosen at the beginning of the year, received a plaque. The Best Batting Average was earned by Mary Mills. Most Improved plaques were given to Laquita Thrower and Shanna Weaver. The award for the Best Defense was shared between outfielder, Beth Lanier, and infielder, Mary Mills.

This year the team agreed there was not one person on the team who could be named Most Valuable Player. A different person came through to do the job when it was needed. This year an award was given to a person who gave 110%, hustled on and off the field, and tired to keep the team with the "winning attitude." This honor, the Eaglette Award, was given to Stephanie Sorrow.

To end the evening, the senior softball players presented plaques to the managers, Rochelle Greer and Kendall Williford. As well, they gave a plaque to Coach Carreker that held the game ball from the last region game.

It's all in the wrist

Around the middle of March, the tennis team started its daily practice. Long, hard working hours went towards making this year's team the very best it could be. The team here at Northside had an outstanding year under the leadership of Randy Hinson and Kay Varnadoe. The boys team was undefeated in the subregion and finished second at the Region Tournament in Augusta. Robert Nguyen led the Eagle tennis team with a perfect 12-0 subregion record in doubles and singles. The Eaglettes were less successful in subregion but finished an outstanding end at region finals. Phylisa Oliver led the Eaglettes with an undefeated subregion record. She capped the season off with the Region 4-AAAA singles championship and made it to the semifinals in state competition. Northside looks for another outstanding season next year.

Driving toward success

The Northside Golf team, coached by Buz Porch, began practice at the beginning of March. The returning players include Kevin Dover, Mike Moss, and Patrick Raley, while the rest of the team consists of newcomers, Scott Felton, Jeff Outz, and Darren Schnee. Kevin and Mike are Seniors, and Coach Porch hopes the rest of the players get enough experience to be even better next year.

The team plays in the Demon Invitational here in Warner Robins and the Blue Devil Invitational in Tifton. Last year, Kevin Dover tied for fifth place in both tournaments and has even higher hopes this year. Coach Porch will also lead his players into many matches against teams within the region as well as others throughout the state.

This year the Region Tournament will be played at the new and difficult Landings Golf Club here in Warner Robins. All eight teams in the region will participate, and Coach Porch will have his team shooting for one of the top two places. The top two teams from region will participate in the State Finals at Jekyll Island.

A Classic Inning

At the beginning of the season, the only thing that was needed to have a winning baseball team was a pitching staff. Coach Eldridge soon found a combination with sophomore Mitch Horton and junior Mike Lee. The defense was in good shape with five returning players who had playing experience.

Jeff Sans controlled the position of catcher while Derrick Harnage, shortstop, had played errorless defense for the J. V. Team last year.

For the first half of the season, the Eagles were 8-0. The last half of the season was played with determination but bad luck.

The first sub-region loss was to Warner Robins. The next was lost to Southwest. This put Northside and Warner Robins in a tie for first. The next game was a heart-breaker loss to Northeast, but luck gave Northside some advantage when Warner Robins lost to Central to again be in a tie for first.

The region game meant life or death to both of the teams. The winner would come out as the sub-region champs and continue in the region play-offs. The game had been close until the first baseman for Warner Robins hit a grand slam to give Warner Robins a 10-6 win.

Senior, Dexter Copeland, puts three years of experience behind the bat for the Eagles.

Spring Banquet

The annual Spring Sports Banquet to honor these sports participants was held at the school on June 2, 1988. This year the spring sports seemed to excel in every area possible. The boys track team came in a surprising third place in state and the girls track team sent Kita Thrower to compete with other state finalist. Kita was later invited to compete in London, England during July. This was a great honor not only to her, but to Northside High as well.

The boys tennis team finished the season with a 7-0 record and placed second in the sub-region. The baseball team was impressive during the regular and finished second in sub-region.

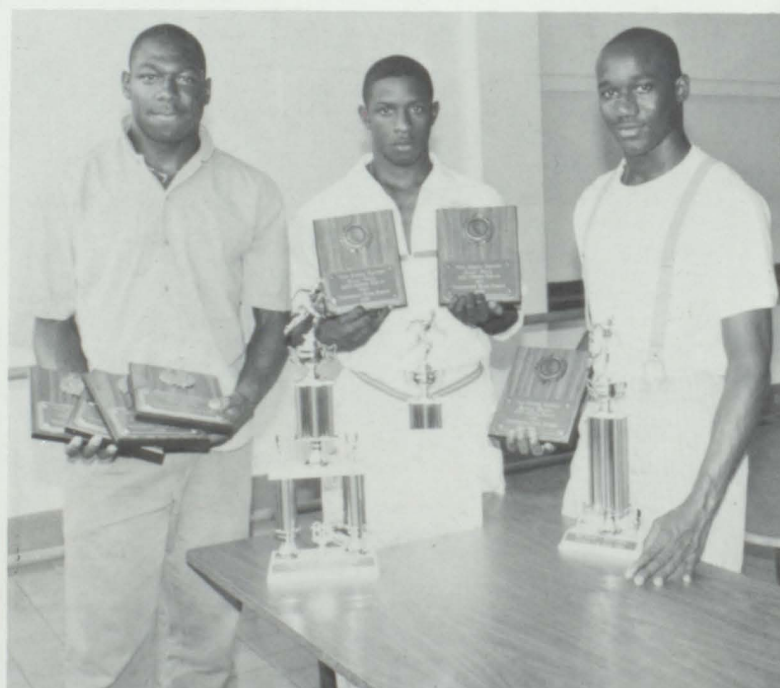

Track records were broken, surprising talents sprung up, and college scouts observed the best.

The banquet also meant saying good-bye to an individual who has been involved in spring sports since 1983, Coach Carol Eldridge. For those athletes who will be returning next year, they had the opportunity to set their goals.

This year proved to be another successful year for the Anchor Club. The purpose of the club was to develop initiative, leadership, and personal integrity. The club's motto, "Success and Service, Hand in Hand," exemplifies the will of each club member to help others in the community. The Anchor Club provided aid to the community by organizing monthly visits to the nursing home. In December, a special visit was made to Hallmark Nursing Home to provide the elderly with Christmas gifts.

At the beginning of the year, the Anchor Club elected new officers. On November 10, an initiation was held to induct all new officers and members. The formal initiation was held at the Flint Electric Building, yet the humor at the formal ceremony could not hold a candle to the laughter that was provoked at the initiations held at school. The new club initiates were forced to dress as grandmothers, as babies, and with their clothes inside out. Being a spectacle was not the only embarrassment the initiates went through. They were forced to parade through the lobby and put on a "fashion show" for the school at break.

The Anchor Club met the first and third Tuesday of each month. Their meeting were held in room 16, for breakfast, or at one of the local nursing homes. Members of the club attended Freedom's Foundation convention at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The club also was present at the State Convention in Perry, GA.

A combination of all of the club's activities allowed its members to become more well-rounded and to serve others in the community as well as themselves.

A Classic. That is definitely a term to describe the Aquila Yearbook staff. Early last May plans for this book, which was to be an all-out 25 year anniversary blow-out, were begun. The first decision to be made was a theme. When "A Classic" was finally chosen, the staff began serious work on a product for the entire school and community. Some members of the staff attended a summer workshop with sponsor, Ms. Yon-gue. It was at this workshop that the staff members decided on a cover and basic page designs for the anniversary book.

Because the number in fifth period class is limited a part time staff developed. This very dedicated group worked many days after school developing the classes section of the book, which exemplifies their talent.

Some had to drop the class after first semester, and were replaced by part time staff members. While the staff worked hard every day in class and many afternoons after school, there were Saturdays that some members of the staff sacrificed to spend the day at Northside doing those chores needed to meet deadlines. Mornings spent selling yearbooks in homerooms were part of the job. Rushing around trying to identify people in photographs, or grabbing students and throwing them into candid pictures were other responsibilities. The Aquila yearbook staff is truly a dedicated group. The yearbook was led by Editor-in-chief, Regina Moore. Classes section editor, Amy Wilson was responsible for design, features, and copy in the section.

Clubs editor, Dee Dee Durden designed and edited this section. Editor of the events section, Michelle Newton did a fabulous job with creativeness and assignments. Lorey Williams had the most difficult section — faculty — yet she made it come alive. Sports editor was Krista Pouncy, who designed her section. One of the most important people on the staff was Tammy Aho, the business manager. When she transferred, Suzie Santos took these responsibilities. Another special person on the staff was Paul Harkness, who was the "always on call" camera man. Paul was always willing to use his own personal time to take last minute shots. Debi Waterman gave much of her time to artwork and Wendy Jackson could always be counted on at the last minute.

Each member of the staff gave all to make this special edition of the Aquila a success. The rewards felt were far beyond those of most projects at Northside. "The yearbook is a worthwhile project that teaches teamwork, goals and achievement." said staff member, Kim Kovarvic.

A dedicated staff member, Jalandra Standard, helps Tammy Aho balance receipts.

At workshop during the summer, Michelle Newton begins plans for a very special yearbook.

The section editors had a big job leading the staff. They are Lorey Williams, Krista Pouncy, Regina Moore, Amy Wilson, and Michelle Newton.

Studying French is a full time chore for junior, Vicki Lowe.

There are many students at Northside who are involved in the foreign language program. Since the ruling that all students must take at least two years of foreign language to graduate, the numbers have practically doubled. Those students who take French are eligible for membership in the French Club. Because Mrs. Myers is the only French teacher at Northside, she sponsors the club.

During 1988 the French Club had many projects. One of the most outstanding projects was the "EAGLE" t-shirt sale in November. Again in February, the French Club had another fund raiser. This time, they chose to sell carnations for Valentines Day. All students involved felt that the events were worthwhile and educational.

INSPIRING ARTISTS SHOW C·R·E·A·T·I·V·I·T·Y

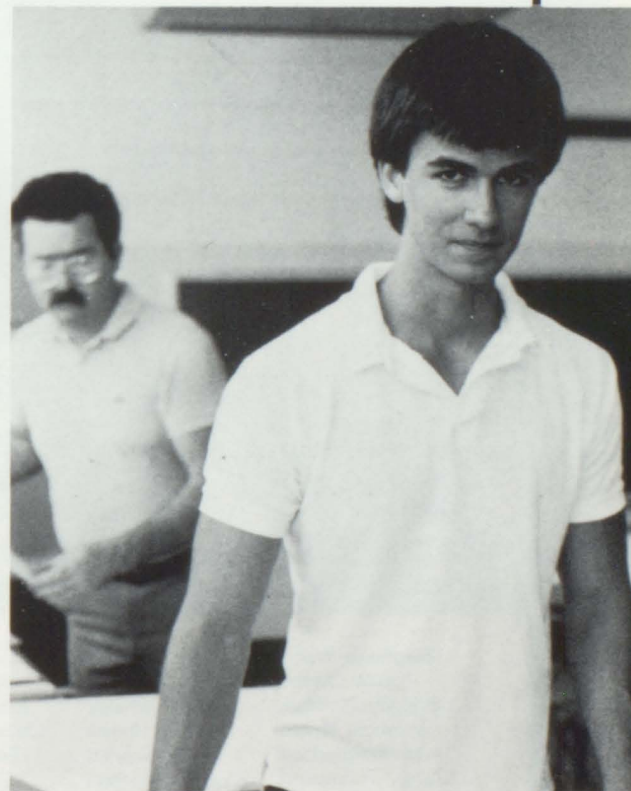

The Northside High School Art Club, sponsored by Mr. Jim Maine, held weekly meetings on Tuesdays during break. The Art Club was involved in several annual events. These events included art shows at the Houston County Fair as well as the annual Student Art Exhibition held at the Houston Mall. The Art Club also helped decorate for such events as the football and basketball banquets, various performances put on by the Thespians, and this year, they sponsored the art show held at the Fair.

As stated by Art Club member, Stephanie Wood, "The Art Club has a wide variety of people with many talents. Being a member was a very rewarding experience.

During mid-August, while most people are cherishing the last few days of summer, the Blue Wind Band and its director are hard at work. They practice new shows and new music for the upcoming football season.

"Most people just don't realize exactly how much work we put into shows. We did a Top 40 and a classical show this year. This contrast shows just how hard we all worked," states junior trombone player Steven Varnadoe.

The band also plays at pep rallies, the Homecoming Assembly, Senior Day, and marches in the Christmas and Homecoming Parades. Marching season comes to an end.

It is time for concert season. During this time, the band rehearses for the Christmas concert and most importantly, for perfection of three pieces of music to be played at Band Festival. During this competition, the judges evaluate how well the band performs. The scale on which they are rated ranges from a one, being superior, to a five, which is poor. This year the band performed at their peak and received a superior rating.

After the tension of Festival, the band finally has a chance to take a deep breath and relax before beginning practice for Spring Concert, which is the last performance of the year.

The band is led by first year director, Jim Langley, who is a Northside graduate and played in the band. He attended the University of Georgia where he earned a degree in music education, played trumpet in the Redcoat Marching Band and Jazz Band.

Susan Calkins, Joannie Kothaniek, Amy Elmore, and Stephanie Lashley enjoy a laugh after a grand performance.

The band adds that spirit-starting beat to get everyone fired up. They provide entertainment for young and old. The members of the band not only provide the spirit; they are the spirit. They develop character and integrity in an atmosphere of enjoyable fellowship with others who have the common interest of music. Their patient endurance and dedication in learning the music is greatly appreciated and applauded by all at Northside High School.

This year, as in the past, the Beta Club members kept busy with two important fund raisers. In the fall, members sold and delivered homecoming flowers. In the spring members gathered to organize a second fund raiser. This year the Beta Club sold a newly designed senior shirt. Money from each of these fund raisers went to provide a five hundred dollar scholarship to a deserving student in the spring.

In addition to these, the Beta Club became active in helping two community organizations. During the Christmas and Easter season, members brought in donations for the Safehouse for Battered Women. At Christmastime, food, trial size items, and presents were donated to the house. At Easter members compiled Easter baskets for the children staying there. Beta Club members also pooled their efforts to help the Nola Brantley Public Library through a fund-raising car wash and bake sale.

Beta Club members had a chance to relax as well as have fun at the Annual State Beta Club Convention in Atlanta on February 5-7. A few members even volunteered to take tests during this weekend. This dedication paid off as Susan Fuller received a first place finish in the English competition. Tammy Piceno placed fourth in the Math competition. Amy Elmore was the runner-up in the very competitive scholarship competition

Concert choir puts a little fun into their singing.

Accuracy and perfection are two of the main goals that the concert choir strives for in their performances.

Concert choir is an art just as playing a musical instrument is an art. It takes hard work and dedication to sing in the correct key and to carry a perfect tune. In addition to learning to sing correctly, members of the concert choir learn to sight read music, to carry a certain part of a melody within a group, and they also learn the fundamentals of music. The concert choir is directed by Mr. Rick Unruh and practice is held each day during fourth period. The choir performed with the Ensemble during the Christmas concert for the student body and faculty. They also performed at graduation. Each performance the concert choir gave was an original and was performed to the height of the choir's ability. Audiences easily saw the hard work the concert choir put into their rehearsals.

Under the direction of Mr. Unruh, the concert choir performs with determination and is an outstanding success.

Another important part of the concert choir is the music played on the piano by Melanie Stephen.

During the Christmas season, the concert choir shows off their talent to the student body.

The Ensemble practices for the annual literary competition.

You can almost consider Ensemble a community organization rather than a singing group. Besides singing for the school during the Christmas concert, they sang at the Faculty Dinner, NHS Dinner Theater, and at the Miss Northside Pageant. Other things they are involved in at the school are singing telegrams, singing at first semester graduation, and singing at second semester commencement with the concert choir.

While Ensemble was at Festival, they received a superior rating. They sang so well that they could go professional with their talent. They performed at the West-side Elementary Faculty Dinner, at the Warner Robins Senior Center, and at the Constitution Celebration Ceremony at the County Annex.

Officers for the 1987-88 year were Lemar Jones, pres.; Ashleigh Andrews, v.pres.; Jonathan Simon, sec-tres.; Richelle Roby, historian.

The 1987-88 Debate Season was an extremely productive one for a number of Northside students. In addition to defeating Warner Robins at Region for the twenty-second time in twenty-five years, Northside debaters brought home approximately fifty awards from tournaments around Georgia.

This year's Region Team was composed of Ricky McClellan and Medgar Roberts on the Affirmative, with Penny Stanescu and Mike Hester on the Negative. Jeff Riner served as alternate. For Medgar, this was his third Region Championship. It was also his third year to be in the Final Round for the State AAAA Debate Championship. Northside placed Second to Parkview at State.

Perhaps Northside's most impressive accomplishment in debate was to bring home six first place awards from Mercer University in October, including First Place Overall School. The Affirmative Team of Lisa Parnell and Ricky McClellan took First Place as Affirmative in Open Debate with a perfect 6-0 record. The Negative Team of John Thomas and Kelly Milner took First Place as Negative in Open Debate. Ricky also claimed First Place Individual Speaker in Open Debate. The two Northside teams, with a perfect 12-0 record combined, took First Place as a Four-Person Unit. Mike Hester, in the Varsity Division, also took First as an individual debater. Along with some other awards, these made Northside the First Place School in all divisions at Mercer.

For Penny Stanescu and Mike Hester, one major highlight for the year was reaching Semi-Finals in Varsity Debate at Woodward Academy in November. Not only did they defeat some outstanding teams to reach Semis, but they also qualified for the Richard B. Russell All State Debate Tournament to be held in March. An additional high point for Penny and Mike came at Gainesville in January when they defeated the top team from Carrollton High School to win First Place Varsity Team.

Perhaps the greatest accomplishment for Chad Walton and Amber Ray was taking First Place as an Affirmative Team in Open Debate at Americus High School in December. For Kelly Milner and Gary Matthews, taking First Place in Open Debate at Woodward had to be the achievement that stands out above others. They competed against other first year debaters from around Georgia and came out number one.

Preparing the extensive research necessary to complete successfully takes many months, but the accomplishments of these students have made the work all worthwhile. The 1987-88 debate season has been one of pride and accomplishment for Northside.

Teaching a plan of strategic debate, Mr. Rogers concentrates on the selected topic.

Preparing to give their debates, Gary Matthews and Chad Walters take time to look over their material.

For Mike Hester, Penelope Stanescu, and Medgar Roberts, success means going over tons of research.

Sherry Phillips, Rose Ellis, Robin Jones, and Sonja Roberts pledge their leadership to DECA.

There is more to school than sitting in classes all day. Learning about the work force is of equal importance as the everyday subjects taught in school. Deca, Distributive Education Clubs of America, enables students to leave school early and get first hand work experience from his or her job. The sponsor, Mr. Warnock, teaches his students the importance of hard work and good working relations with fellow employees. The motto of Deca is to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution.

Along with work is also play. Deca's play this year included the participation in the homecoming parade. The club also attended different district and national contests, and also state and national leadership conferences. Remember the big Christmas tree you saw here at school? Well, of course, Deca decorated it again this year.

The computer club is a very significant club now, because computers are a very important part of our life today. Computer Technology has taken over many of the things that people used to do on their own in the past. To get a certain kind of job, usually you have to know how to use a computer. Computers are becoming increasingly important in our generation, because people are learning to use them, and it is making their jobs much easier.

Meetings are on Monday mornings when upcoming events are discussed. This year, the computer club competed in the 1987-88 homecoming parade and won 2nd place in the car category.

In April David Williams competed in the FBLA state leadership conference in "Computer Concepts".

The Flag Corp attended camp at Macon Junior during the summer to learn different types of routines and dances that were

FHA PROVIDES INVALUABLE S·E·R·V·I·C·E

FHA, the Future Homemakers of America, is a community service club which is open to any student enrolled in Mrs. Strait's home economics classes. The enrollment in FHA varies because some students do not remain in a home ec class all year long. Barbara Stubbs served as president of FHA and remained in foods classes throughout the course of the year.

Club members served the community in many different ways. They visited local nursing homes on Christmas and other holidays. At Easter, they decorated Elberta Nursing Home. The FHA also collected for UNICEF on Halloween by going to homes trick-or-treating for money.

The FHA also provided a service for special events at Northside. The Homecoming Tea and the Miss Northside Tea are both planned and prepared by the students in Mrs. Strait's classes. Boys as well as girls lend a helping hand in the preparation. The annual FBLA banquet is also prepared by the FHA. Without the fruit and vegetable trays, the delicious pastries, and the fountains of punch that the FHA prepared, none of these special events would have been quite so special.

In June, the FHA traveled to FHA Camp to learn new ideas in cooking, sewing, and home management. The club as a whole fulfilled their motto, "Toward New Horizons."

FCA ENCOURAGES F·R·I·E·N·D·S·H·I·P

The FCA was a very active part of the sports scene at Northside. The club encouraged friendship as well as sportsmanship among all athletes. The FCA, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, supported various teams throughout the school. When the girl's softball team advanced to the region playoffs, the FCA gave each player a softball with candy attached to it in order to boost team spirit. Their efforts were successful because the softball team, coached by FCA sponsor Coach Carreker, went on to take the championship.

The FCA is made up of athletes from various teams. Cheerleaders, basketball players, football players, softball and baseball players, members of the track, golf, and tennis teams all come together each Thursday morning at 8:05 to discuss fellowship in athletics. "To present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord, Serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church," was the FCA's motto. Rochelle Greer, pres; Joey Rigsby, v.pres; Ronda Huddleston, sec; and Shanna Weaver, tres; led the club to carry out their motto and to bring fellowship into Northside's athletics.

LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

Officers: Will Vinson, Treasurer; Mike Moss, Pres.; Brian Lifsey, Proj. Chairman; Regina Moore, Vice Pres.; Gail Bird, Sec.

History Club Proj. Chairman Brian Lifsey works hard to get strings and streamers perfect before the parade.

Members of the history club wait for the final judgments before joining the line-up of the parade.

Donna Purvis, Gail Bird, Tony Nguyen, and Brian Lifsey wave from the NHS History Book as the Homecoming Parade progresses.

The NHS History Club was started six years ago in 1982. Since then, the members have worked hard to promote history and its importance. Although history is part of the required curriculum at Northside, many students did not realize how important studying the past is to our future. Many of the problems we face today have been around for centuries, and by studying history, we can look back and see how other great empires have coped with the very same problems.

The History Club meets every Tuesday morning at break in room 53 to discuss upcoming and past events, and to plan outside activities. Some of the activities the club has participated in this year include providing necessary items for a needy family at Christmas, constructing a Homecoming float for the Homecoming Parade, and providing information to the school about national holidays, the school and the community.

As for the future, the members of the History Club hope that more students will get actively involved with the club and its effort to carry on the tradition and pride of Northside through history. During the next year, the club will be publicizing election 1988 in an attempt to draw the student body's attention towards the election of a new president and to encourage as many as possible to vote.

Taking a break after the half-time performance, Captain Bridgett McBride enjoys the final half of the game.

As a part of the Majorette squad, one must be willing to put in hours of hard practice during the summer and after school. This year, seven talented girls were chosen to represent Northside as majorettes. Majorettes accent the music the band plays by twirling their batons and dancing with the beat of the music.

The Majorettes along with the Flag Corp and the Band start practicing during the summer to perfect the routines that are performed during the half-time show. These girls work closely during these months and the friendship between them is evident to everyone.

The Majorettes show their Northside Pride through their hard work and dedication to the art of twirling.

Marching onto the field, Christy White twirls her baton to the beat of the music.

Enjoying the excitement of the football season is majorette Terri Owens and manager Brandi Barfield.

During the Homecoming Parade, the NHS Majorettes march in time with the Blue Wind Band.

P•E•P•C•L•U•B

The Northside High Pep Club kept busy during football, basketball, softball, and baseball seasons, printing signs and helping at pep rallies. At open house, we helped parents locate their students' classrooms. To earn money, we held car washes.

The club did not forget its obligations to the community. At Christmas we went caroling at nursing homes. We also participated in Homecoming and Christmas Parades.

Two new activities for the club were the purchase of club jackets with letters and the selection of Miss Eagle Spirit.

Members were invited to write a paper on the meaning of Eagle Spirit and present it before the entire Pep Club. From the entries Gayla Lewis was selected Miss Eagle Spirit and her court included Becky Buller and Kay Gillman.

LETTING THE LIGHT SHINE

The Prayer Club, sponsored by Mrs. Strait, meets every Tuesday at 8:00 a.m. in Rm. #28. The members are in charge of most of the meetings. Once a month a guest speaker is invited to speak before the group. Their topics are about life and how to handle it. These speakers are ministers from various churches in Warner Robins and represent several different denominations.

Projects of the Prayer Club have been to visit the nursing homes at Christmas Time. Visiting Christian Concerts here in Warner Robins has also been a past time for the club members.

Prayer Club members listen attentively as Jim Bagley gives words of encouragement.

Kathy Butler and Lisa Edge find that working together brings close friendships.

The editors of the Quill are: Rodney Boucher (Features), Debi Waterman (News), Steve Chastain and Suzi Campbell (Editors-in-chief), and Tony Nguyen (Sports).

As Sports Editor, Tony Nguyen works on layouts for the paper.

For the talented group of students who make up the Quill newspaper staff, the bottom line is enthusiasm. In order to produce the monthly paper, all the students had to work together as a team. Sometimes working as a team was difficult because of personality conflicts or grumpy moods, but the members of the staff grew closer by working through the problems. When students were tired on Monday mornings or too excited to concentrate on Friday morning, they drew the energy to complete assignments through their dedication to the Quill.

Of course the newspaper was put together by the students, however, the driving force behind them was sponsor, Mrs. Brenda Littlefield. With her encouragement and support, the Quill newspaper experienced another successful year.

The entire Quill staff worked hard to make the year a success.

G·E·R·M·A·N

The 1988 German Club, known by its members as "die Deutsch Officiers Klub" (the German Officers Club) is the last year of its kind here at Northside as the '87-'88 school year is the last year German will be instructed by Frau Gisela Myers, who is also the German Club sponsor. She has been teaching here at Northside for 15 years.

The 1987-88 German Club officers are as follows; President — Susie Culpepper; Vice-President — Kaci Boulware; Secretary — Chad Frost; Treasurer — John McAlister; Projects Chairman — Greg Chriss; and Sergeant-at-Arms — Shawna Chandler.

All German Club members acknowledge and appreciate Mrs. Myers' help in organizing the club and its elections and wish her happiness and health in her retirement.

Standing in front of the German flag are Susie Culpepper, Greg Chriss, and Kaci Boulware.

Members of the German Club obey the rule: No English is spoken here.

The Spanish Club's aim is to cultivate the minds of its members with Hispanic culture. This year its members learned about the life styles of young Hispanic people. Much to their surprise, they discovered that they are not very different from Hispanic teenagers in terms of relationships with their family and friends.

The Spanish Club participated in a number of activities, one of which included watching a movie at the Raddison Inn called "Los Casadores del Arca Perdida" more popularly known as "Raiders of the Lost Ark". The movie exposed the members to a new experience of watching a movie in a different language.

Stacking up, helps Chris Barkley make big bucks for the Senior Executive Committee.

At the beginning of each year, a very special event takes place in every senior homeroom. All seniors vote from selected students to represent the senior class on the Senior Executive Committee. Each senior homeroom has two members, who attend regular meetings, which are held every Wednesday at 8:05. Sr. Class officers also attend each Senior Exec meeting.

As the year progresses, Sr. Exec are involved in several activities. The Senior Exec along with members of the Senior Class, follow tradition by decorating the Senior Hall during Spirit Week. Also, as the year moves on, Sr. Exec sponsors the annual Sr. Barbeque. This event is the major profit-maker for the senior class. As stated by sponsor, Mr. Mantiply, "With much input by Senior Exec, and a great response from the entire senior class, the barbeque was a large success." With profits made from the barbeque, Sr. Exec sponsored the Senior Ball. Other activities in which Sr. Exec were involved throughout the year were: Sr. parking stickers, Sr. Hall passes, and the Sr. Picnic. Members avidly discuss events within the club with all Sr. homerooms. Krista Pouncy said, "The most important part of being a Sr. Exec member is remembering responsibilities and informing other class members of decisions made in each meeting." Overall, the Sr. Exec had a successful year, in turn providing the Senior Class with a rewarding year.

John Brody and Cliff Simpson are getting into their job during the Sr. Barbeque.

Mrs. Littlefield is the sponsor, who volunteers her time to work in the concession stand at basketball games and also doing the Mr. Northside Pageant. The S. C. sponsors the Top 5% Banquet. They also do community work such as visit nursing homes and the sick children at the hospital.

Meetings are on Thursday mornings to discuss plans and upcoming events. Student Council consists of all three classes and is a great opportunity to meet new people and have a great time.

As Joy Marsh and Sherri McElroy show, theatre brings people together.

One of the largest clubs at Northside is Thespian Troup 2892. In order to become a member a student must have a number of hours that he had worked in theatrical events, points earned must come from working with Northside Drama.

For many in the troupe, the One-Act play, "Runaways," was the most important event all year, which took second place in State Literary Competition. Preparation began for the Georgia Thespian Conference held February 12-14 in Valdosta. These future actors were exposed to every facet of theatre. A very short two weeks later, on February 26-27, the Thespians sponsored the annual Miss Northside Pageant held at the Warner Robins Civic Center. The members of the troupe were worn out, but not too worn out to hold a Dinner Theatre on April 8-9.

Because "Runaways" was so well received at Conference, the group was invited to perform at a Vocational Conference, April 21-22 at Jekyll Island. While all this was going on, the Thespians had already begun plans for the Spring Musical! This year's show was "Bye, Bye Birdie," which cast any student willing to dance and sing.

"Bye, Bye Birdie" delighted audiences on May 19-21 with vibrant dance routines and quiet love songs.

The constant working together causes bonds to form. Under the direction of Mr. Gerald Ray Horne, the group won awards as well as confidence and friendship. For most members, Mr. Horne became more like a father, who was also referred to as "Daddy Horne." The Thespian Northside students learned to share their talents and expand their horizons.

In Jekyll Island, Regina Moore, Jody Mullendore, and Rob Gordon soak up the sun and forget about work!

During the Miss Northside Pageant, Sherolyn Ford puts on a dynamic performance as all Thespians should.

At Dinner Theatre, Rusty Mines is in charge of keeping all candles lit.

One club that continually has one of the largest memberships is VICA, or Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. VICA is the club that included the many Northside students who were in the job program. There were many outstanding events during the year for this successful club. The first being a new sponsor, Mr. Holloman, who brought new energy to the students. Mr. Holloman also gave them a new slogan — America's new professionals. Pride in what we do.

For JR Dunagan and Mike Harrison, VICA provided a free weekend at the VICA Spring Conference in Atlanta. Some of the club's other activities included several breakfasts at Shoney's, and a sweat shirt fund raiser that swept the North side of town. After the Eagles second victory over the Demons, VICA sold sweat shirts donning the slogan "Ain't it nice to beat'em twice." The project was definitely a hit as was the entire VICA program in 1988.

1987-88 VOCA Officers are: Lyda Guillory, Michelle Duke, Maurice Davis, Cynthia Strippling, and Trellis Smith.

First semester officers prepare to conduct a VOCA business meeting.

The VOCA club at Northside was very important this year. It was through VOCA, Vocational Opportunity Clubs of America, that many students found jobs as well as a head start in the professional world. The officers this year were Amanda Reason, president; Michelle Duke, vice-president; Trellis Smith, treasurer; Cynthia Stripling, secretary; Reggie Davis, parliamentarian; Jewellene Owens, reporter; and Janet Perry, historian. The club met every Thursday morning to discuss the week's activities.

Some of the events the VOCA enjoyed outside of school were Officers Training Conference on October 17 in Albany, installation of the officers, October 22, and Region Contest held March 12 at Monroe High. With sponsor, Robert Mantiply, VOCA developed its club motto: Learning to work, working to learn, learning to do a job well done. Willing to try after defeat to be successful for a life complete.

The VOCA program was very helpful in getting the students at Northside into the work force of Warner Robins.

Working during class periods is an important part of learning about the job market for Denise Mercer.

YOU DRINK, YOU DRIVE, YOU DIE!

Drunk driving ranks today as one of the nation's most serious health and safety issues. One quarter of a million Americans have lost their lives in alcohol-related auto crashes over the past decade. Over the next year, an estimated 4,000 teenagers will die because of drinking and driving. Students Against Drunk Driving is an organization designed to improve these frightening statistics by encouraging people not to drink and drive. Since the formation of SADD and MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving), alcohol-related deaths have been reduced.

The SADD chapter, which was started here in 1987, is responsible for two major contributions. On Prom night students are given a HOTLINE number to be used if they are unable to drive. Also, a Grad Party sponsored by the Downtowner Motel, WRBN, and the SADD chapters from Northside and Warner Robins high schools is designed so that seniors will have a place to gather rather than be on the roads.

Students hard work pays off when SADD's car wins first place in the car competition in the Homecoming Parade.

On Friday mornings in the cafeteria many students attend the weekly Jr. Civitan meeting. The meeting begins with the traditional ringing of the bell. During the meeting, officers and members discuss upcoming events.

Jr. Civitan represents a helping hand in our community. Some of the club's contributions include providing clothing and fishing equipment for the Veteran's Hospital, visiting children's ward at the hospital, ringing the bell for the Salvation Army, and helping with the Special Olympics.

In April members attended a Jr. Civitan convention at Norman Park in Moultrie, GA. Also, many of the Jr. Civitan's members from the Southern District participated in the skate-a-thon in order to raise money for different organizations. Through car washes, Jr. Civitan raised money to help pay for their annual Six Flags trip.

Congratulations!

We are proud of you and your accomplishments.
"But continue thou in the things which you have learned and been assured of, knowing of whom you have learned them; and that from a child you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus." (2 Tim. 3:14&15)

President Ronald Reagan bids farewell to his office after the 1988 Presidential Elections.

"Well, isn't that special!" exclaims Saturday Night Lives' Church Lady as played by Dana Carvey.

A very scandalous figure of '88, Jim Bakker still makes a good appearance.

As the balloons show, '88 was the year to win.

Fatal Fiascoes

Nineteen eighty-eight was certainly "the year". But, "the year" for what? Well, in looking back over the past twelve months, it seems to be the year for scandal! The USA had hardly recovered from the Iran Contra Affair, also known as Irangate, when it was plunged into a whole new sphere of sex and degradation. Presidential hopeful Gary Hart had an illicit affair with Donna Rice; evangelist Jimmy Swaggert had a prostitute pose for him; and in the middle were Jim Bakker and Jessica Hahn, who set the world of gossip on fire when their affair caused the breakup of popular TV network, PTL.

Also, 1988 marked the last year of Ronald Reagan as President. Many hopefuls began to run, but in the end it was George Bush (Republican) and Michael Dukakis (Democrat).

Entertainment in 1988 took on a bright new look. Cher made an awesome comeback by winning an Oscar for Best Actress for her film "Moonstruck". Best Supporting Actress was won by Olympia Dukakis, who just happens to be the cousin of Michael. Audiences were scared into being faithful by Michael Douglas and Glenn Close in the popular flick, "Fatal Attraction".

At Northside in 1988, the school received much needed renovation. The windows were taken down and brick was put in; this was in preparation for the air conditioning. Also to come were the addition of carpet and an auditorium.

There were also many other important events that effected our lives. Baby Jessica, who fell in a well, was rescued. The USA was visited by Pope John Paul II, and the Olympics brought much honor to the USA.

It was a year for life lived in the brightest of colors — as every life should be.

Making a brilliant comeback, Cher has alot to be proud of in 1988.

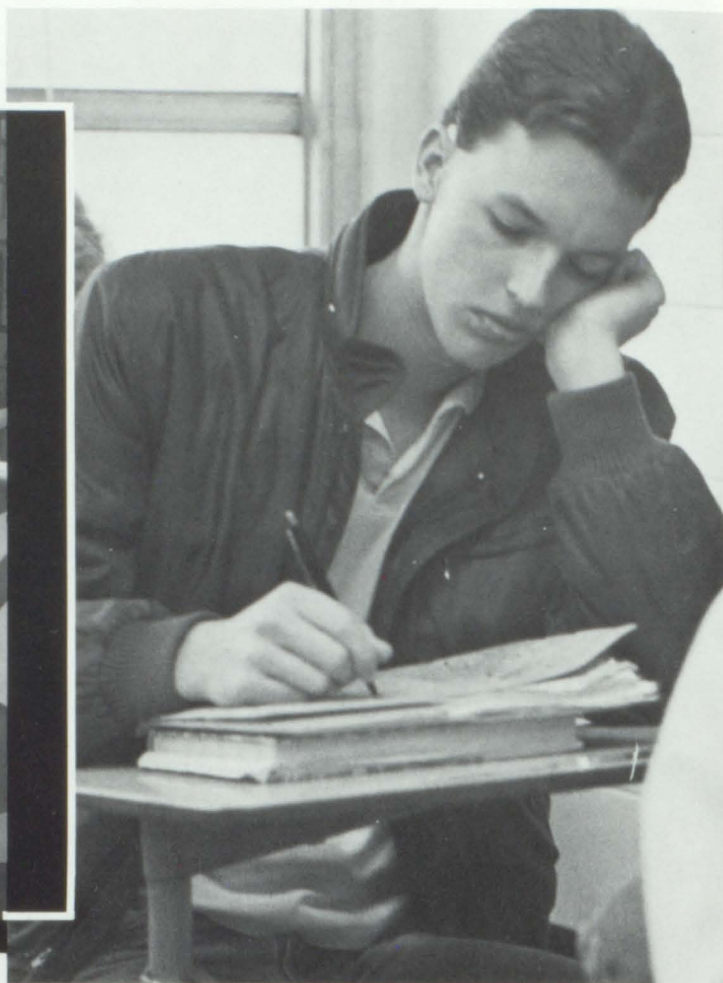

At a rally for his candidacy, Michael Dukakis and cousin Olympia Dukakis cheer with the crowd.

Viewing construction from inside out are Jason Tomlinson and Billy Szczesniak.

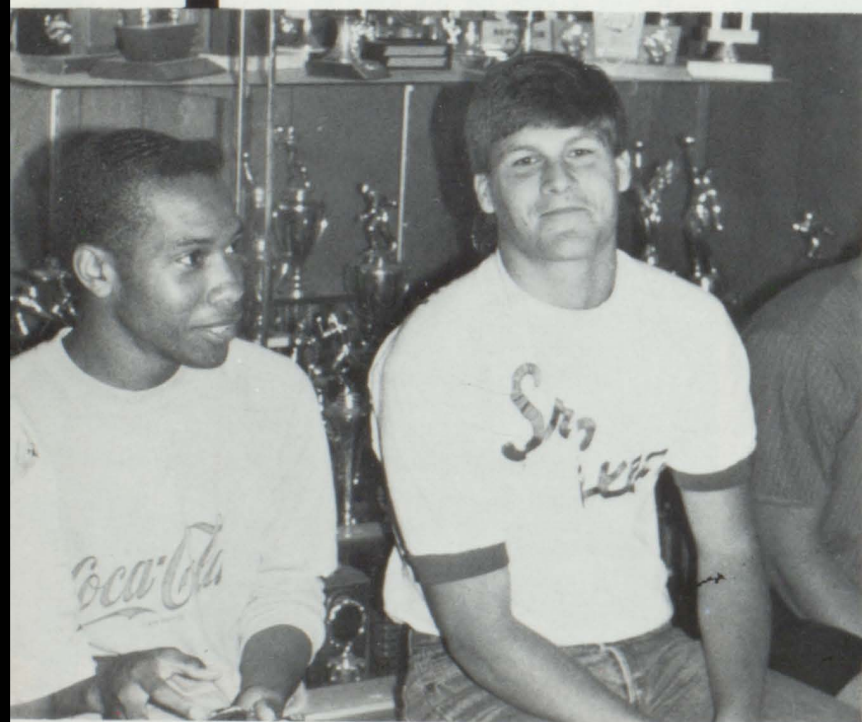

Seniors Kellie Vaughn, Cliff Simpson, and Monica Freeman roll a junior's car who dared to park in the senior lot.

While the year was filled with fun, Billy Andersen knows that academics are first.

The Senior Bench was the home of many memories for Maurice Davis and Heath Walker.

Sunrise, Sunset . . .

And so the 1988 school year ended. For the juniors and seniors there is a new sunrise to see. Seniors will go out into the world and become responsible citizens, while the juniors will learn to lead Northside High School through another successful year. For the Class of 1988, Northside has prepared them to become leaders in the community. However, the class of 1989 must rise up and take over. They will be left here to learn some of life's most difficult lessons — the lessons of growing up and accepting responsibilities. The Class of 1988 must become a memory, a good memory. If the seniors could leave the juniors one piece of advice, it would be to take advantage of every moment, because it goes by all too quickly. The Seniors of 1989 will be there to lead the others in every Northside tradition. It is a big job, but the class of '89 has the spirit to keep Northside at top level.

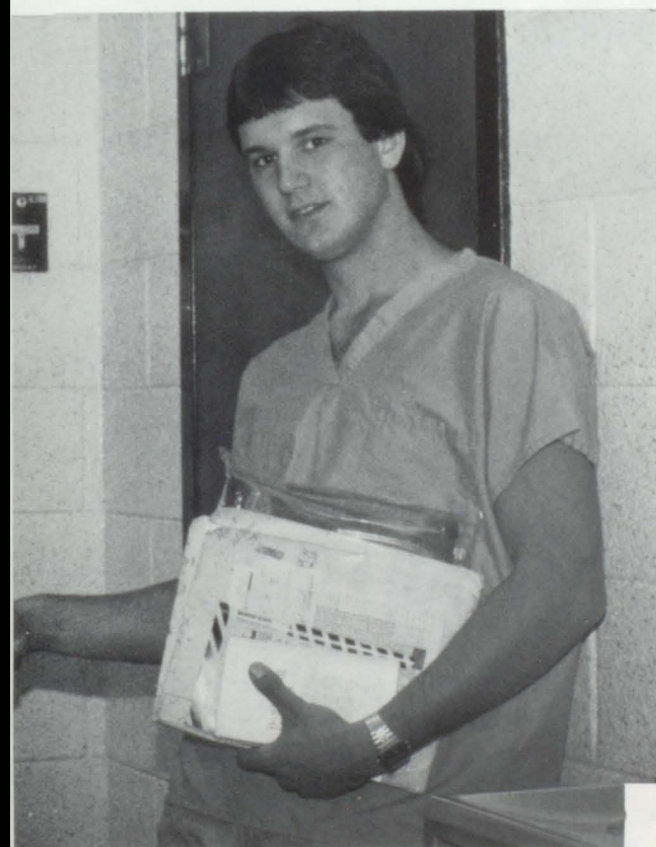

There are many, many things the Seniors had to say goodbye to, first of all, their parking lot. As of June 8, the parking lot belonged to the "new seniors". However, this tradition was not handed down without the usual initiation of toilet paper and shaving cream. The senior bench will also be warmed by new bodies. They will no longer be called to pep rallies first, or be able to cut in the lunch line on Fridays. Instead these privileges will be part of a new world for the juniors. Finally, they will get revenge for all the jeers as sophomores — they will understand senioritis. That is, the general belief that seniors are far superior to anyone else.

The Class of 1988 also enjoyed the 1st year of QBE, the semester system, and the beginning of the renovation. Of course, the Class of '88 did not get to enjoy the air conditioning that the renovation brought on, only the disruption of construction workers, and noisy saws. However, any sacrifice was worth the carpet, air-conditioning, and the new auditorium that Northside would receive.

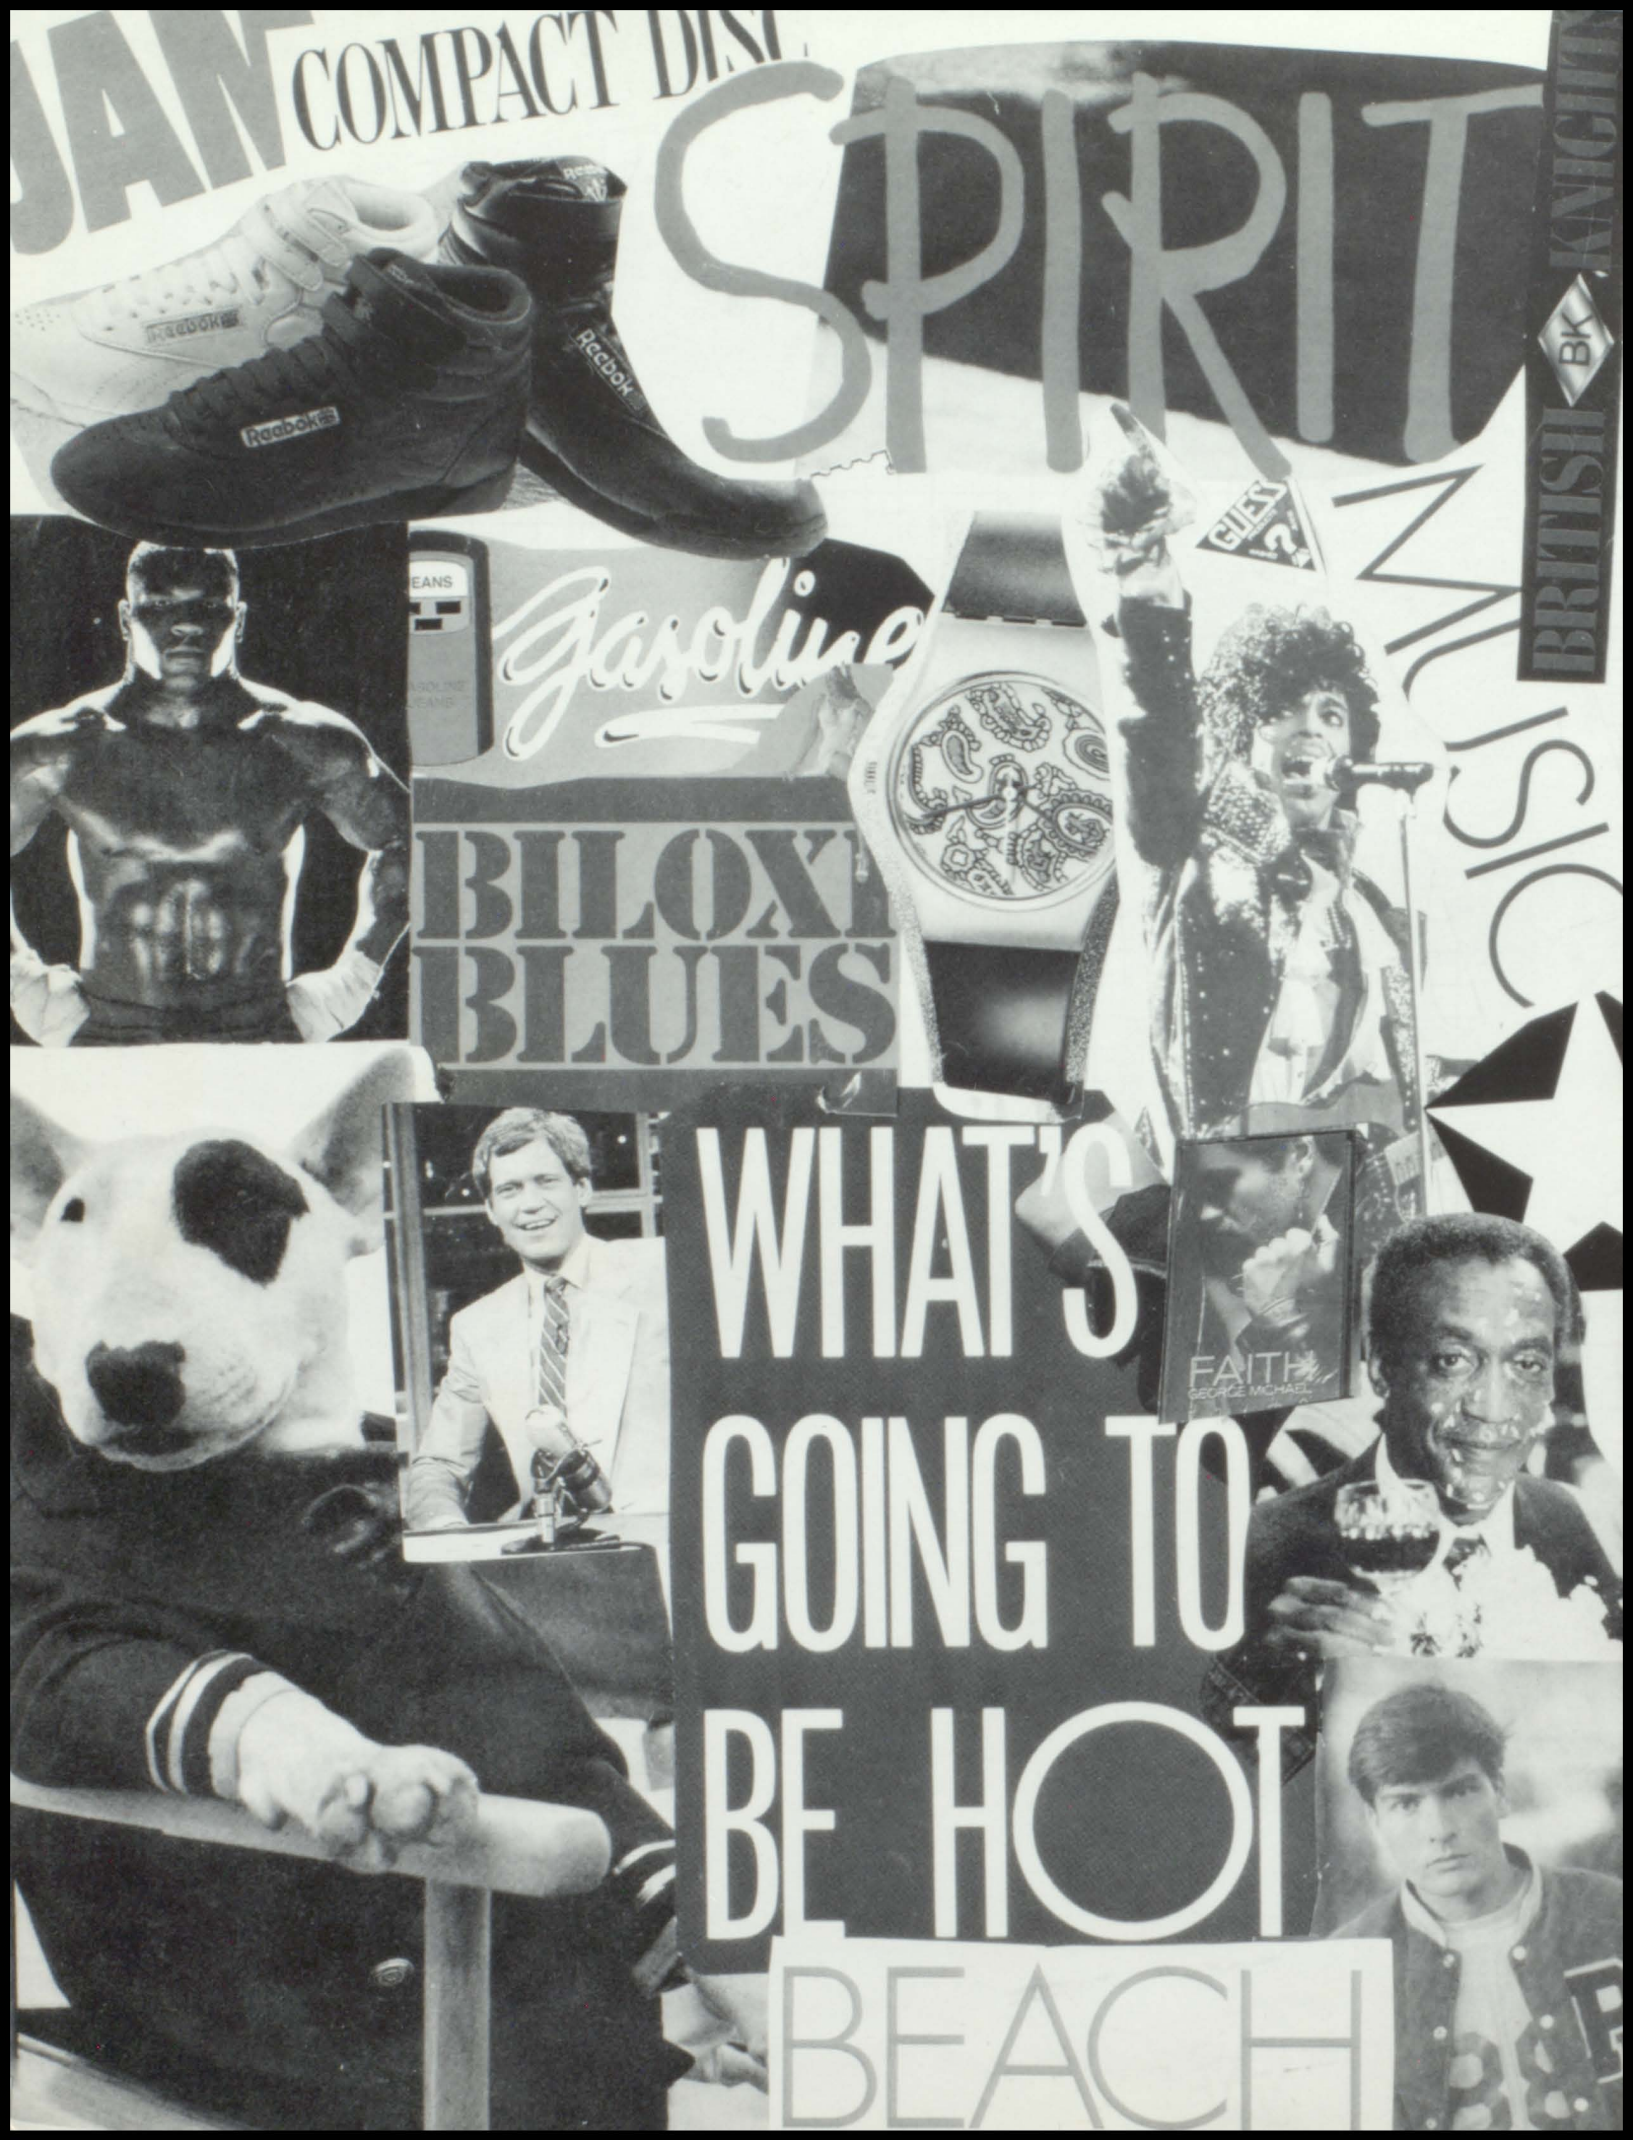

There were so many changes during the year. Students matured. There were new friendships born, and old ones torn apart. Yet, through the laughter and the tears each student developed a special character all their own. Each student became what they are, through Northside High School.

When caps and gowns were given out, many seniors could not wait til June 9 as Krista Pouncy and Michelle Newton show.

While waiting to buy cap and gown, Tim Arnette and Dan Ward congratulate each other finally make it.

The CLASSIC Farewell

Before I impart to you eloquent words of wisdom, there is one thing I have to say — IT'S OVER! Well, now that the tension is gone, I am prepared to use all the tear-jerking phrases I learned during the year. Phrases like: "I'll kill them," "The deadline is late," "Get to work," and my ultimate favorite, "Why isn't it done yet?"

In all seriousness, The Classic went extremely smooth, even though we only had 12 members on the staff due to a reduction in staff. As much as myself and Ms. Yongue, Aquila sponsor, griped and groaned about deadlines, headlines, and toolines, the staff only missed one deadline. I was (almost) always pleased with the amount of dedication I saw in the Staff. I want to apologize to them for any harsh words, and thank them for each portion of their talent and creativity they put into The Classic. I hope now that you have seen the book from cover to cover, you will say that all the headaches and bad moods were worth it. To conclude, I would like to say thanks for not giving up on me, or our common goal — The Classic.

To Amy Wilson and Jalanda Standard — GET READY! Being co-editors next year will be a wonderful part of your lives and I hope you can see through the sweat to the love. While I am on the Subject, I would like to bring up Ms. Imogene Yongue, the yearbook sponsor. You did a great job — even though we both worried about it a lot. She was my sponsor when I needed guidance, my parent when I was in trouble (which was often), and my friend when I needed to laugh or cry. Thank you so much for everything and don't forget the senior cruise we took and when we went snorkling!

On a more personal note, I need to thank my parents. Without their encouragement and love, I never would have had the courage to take on such a huge project. We had a rough year, but somehow we made it. I love you the best!

There were also many adults who were dedicated to The Classic. Mr. Dyson gave the staff so much support including the addition of a computer to the Staff. As well, Mr. Boyd often went out of his way to take pictures. Of course, Mr Ziegler, our Josten's Representative, was always on call to answer even my silliest questions.

Also, there were many students not on the staff who added a great deal of their energy. Senior Christy Ray, who as a project often used her typing skills with Ms. Yongue to put copy in the computer. And also, seniors Wendy Jackson and Debi Waterman, did a great deal of the artwork in the Events and Clubs section. Another special student was Paul Harkness, who always had time to take Photos. Thanks Ya'll! Well, I believe that takes care of all of the people who sacrificed their souls for The Classic. If I left anyone out, I'm sorry, and thanks for whatever you did. Now I'd like to say a few words about The Classic edition. Because this year was the 25th Anniversary, the Aquila had to be extra special. I know it has been for me and I hope you have been touched by the words and pictures. From the type of print we used to the cover of the annual, we have worked and sweated. The gift is for you from me and a very special group of people. For Seniors, our lives will never be the same after June 9th, but hopefully when we thumb through the pages of The Classic, we will be transported back to a time when our biggest problem was who to take to the Sr. Ball. There are so many mixed emotions about graduation. Medgar Roberts signed in my Senior memory book, "I want out so bad I'm pushing people out of the way to get there, yet I want to stay so bad like to chain myself to a column in the senior lobby!" Well, it has been a wonderful year and I am so grateful for all I've learned. I hope everyone enjoyed it as much as I did, and for the mistakes I made, oh well, I'm just Regina!
